LONDON BY THE AIR MAIL

A Patchwork Of Schemes

(From Our Own Correspondent)

London, Aug. 22.

Major Harry Barnes, the chairman, and his colleagues on the Town Planning Committee of the London County Council are pressing ahead with the preparation of a plan for the whole of the administrative county. The preparation of the plan will cost on the average about £23,000 annually for the next five years. It is to be noted that no claims for compensation will be considered until the final scheme comes into operation.

To-day the planning of London is a mere patchwork of schemes, which cover about two-thirds of the county. The City of London Corporation so far is hesitating about operation of the Town and Country Planning Act, and there may be some difficulties with the Metropolitan Borough Councils, who must be consulted about the outlines and the final details of any schemes prepared. But any serious conflict between the interest of the boroughs and the London County Council is regarded as unlikely.

Advisory machinery exists in the form of the Greater London Regional Planning Committee, of which Sir Raymond Unwin, who is on his way to the United States as an adviser on housing to President Roosevelt, was the first consultant. The present secretary of the committee is Major Hardy Syme, who was at one time a co-opted member of the Housing Committee of the London County Council.

CIVIL SERVICE SUPER-ANNUATION

There is much discussion among women civil servants over the superannuation question. At present the women are pensioned in accordance with an Act of 1859 and the men under the provisions of the Act of 1909. The Ministry would no doubt prefer other schemes for the sake of simplicity in administration, and in some quarters it has been contended that women should be prepared to accept the 1909 Act.

The difference is considerable. In the 1859 Act civil servants were granted two-thirds of their salaries after the completion of forty years' service, but under the 1909 Act only one-half is paid. But in consideration of this abatement a lump sum is added if the civil servant dies while on active service, or when he is pensioned, and this arrangement means much to married men. Women, who receive lower salaries and who have to be celibates, are more concerned with obtaining a high pension on retirement. A ballot of the women attached to their union shows that two-thirds of the membership, or at any rate of those voting, desire to remain under the 1859 Act.

A PILGRIMAGE TO-ROME

Strange pilgrimages are to be seen setting out from Victoria Station almost every day of the week. If only one has the time to look for them and the detective skill. It needed no skill, however, to discover the nationality of a party of 400 Italians in London who set out yesterday morning for Rome, for an audience with the Pope and Signor Mussolini. It was a strange pilgrimage in many ways, for at least half of the men, middle-aged Italians who arrived in London as youths many years ago, had not been across the Channel since then. There were mosaic-workers, strong-featured men who had been artists' models, restaurant-keepers, and men who had originally come here as humble organ-grinders and ice-cream sellers.

It would be an overstatement to say that they had all found riches here, but they seemed from their broad smiles to have found some sort of compensating happiness. Although they spoke with enthusiasm

ROUND EUROPE AIR RACE

In Heavy Fog And Rain

Berlin, Sept. 7.

Six German pilots led by the veteran Francke swooped into Tempelhof airfield here on Friday in the course of the "Round Europe" air race in which the best fliers of Poland, Germany, Italy and Czechoslovakia are participating.

Starting from Warsaw a few hours after dawn, the racers were forced to contend with such heavy fog and rain that the flight halted for a few hours at the first scheduled landing place, Koenigsberg. Passing through most capitals of Europe, the fliers will make a wide southern swing on their return flight eastward, covering the northern coast of Africa.

The German pilot, Stein made a successful emergency landing in heavy fog in an open field near Blesdorf when forced down by a fuel pipe breakage, while some nervousness are being entertained as regards the fate of the Polish flier, Karpinski, who is already six hours overdue in Berlin.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ARRIVAL IN FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 8.
The twenty-four pilots taking part in the European air race were enthusiastically received on landing. The Aero Club of France entertained the guests.—Transocean Kuo Min.

MACHINES LEAVE

Paris, Sept. 8.
All machines that arrived here on the round Europe air race last night took off again the next morning.—Transocean Kuo Min.

A DIFFICULT OBSTACLE

Bordeaux, Sept. 8.
The lofty Pyrenees overhung by dense fog proved to be a difficult obstacle on Saturday afternoon for 24 crack fliers who still remain in the 1934 "All round Europe" air race which began at dawn on Friday at Warsaw. The German ace, Francke who led at the end of the first 24 hours chose to make a difficult landing in the open country rather than to proceed into the depths of the thickening mist. Hope is expressed that many contestants will be able to complete the day's schedule up to Casablanca. Motor trouble brought down one more of the German leaders. Krueger in the early morning, putting him permanently out of the race.

The Paris Press which has devoted only passing attention to the spectacular race since the French entrants at the last minute were forced to withdraw, allotted much space on Saturday to describe the abilities of the German aviators who led the racers into the French capital with a comfortable margin.—Transocean Kuo Min.

of their coming audience with Signor Mussolini, they seemed to look on their visit to the Pope, when they will be his guests at a garden party at his summer residence, at Castel Gandolfo, as the climax of their visit.

Before the war the late Sir Nigel Playfair had established himself in London as a suave comedian with a talent for character-acting. One remembers as remarkable the effectiveness of his bland provincial mayor in Pinner's "House in Order," and it was precisely with such parts, small, yet significant, that he was most associated until, after the war, he embarked in alliance with Arnold Bennett on the enterprise which was to lead to the rediscovery of so many masterpieces of the theatre.

Audaciously he took the poor derelict "Lyric Theatre, Hammer-smith, and, with success assured by the run of "Abraham Lincoln, Playfair, unmasked his grins and revealed himself as our witliest stage director. "The Beggar's Opera" ran for years, and the eighteenth century became the fashion. To Playfair of the Lyric we owe it that Sheridan's "Critic" and "The Duenna" are as familiar as his masterpiece. To him Miss Edith Evans owes the opportunities she seized to our delight in "The Way of the World" and "The Beaux' Stratagem," and as a sequel to the "Beggar's Opera" came the revival of several less-renowned ballad operas such as "Lionel and Clarissa" and "Love in a Village."

The Lyric was essentially a producer's theatre, a place where production was individual and idiosyncratic, and a criticism of the method was that it reduced every play to a common denominator of charm. That perhaps is why the vogue of the Lyric has passed. "The theatre is at present closed," said of late Sir Nigel has again been an actor. Recently he left the cast of "Libel" to make his last appearance in Shakespeare at the open air theatre in Regent's Park.

SALE OF ARMS IN TURKEY

Allegation at U. S.
Senate Enquiry

Washington, Sept. 8.
An allegation that a British armaments firm used women entertainers of "doubtful character" to promote the sale of arms in Turkey was made in a letter read to the Senate Committee of Enquiry into the United States munitions industry.
The letter was written to Mr. Louis Driggs, President of a company which specialises in rapid-fire guns, by his agent in Turkey.
After reading the letter, Mr. Driggs remarked that since then, "Kemal Pasha had cleaned up krait in Turkey."
A letter from Mr. Driggs to his agent in Poland was also read declaring that the United States War Department had turned over to the company the secret plans of certain anti-aircraft guns, adding, "the Department is co-operating with us 100 per cent."—Reuter.

GEN. HISHIKARI TO RESIGN

Tokyo, Sept. 8.
The newspaper, Chuganohogyo, reports that General Hishikari intends to resign on the grounds of ill-health. He suffered, from dysentery last month and is now convalescing at Port Arthur.
The Journal adds that General Minami, an ex-member of the War Council, will replace him.—Reuter.

SOUTHAMPTON TONNAGE

Heavy Traffic Period

London, Sept. 7.
The Port of Southampton is in the midst of one of most crowded periods it has experienced in the past two or three years and it is estimated that in the three days ending to-morrow the tonnage of shipping arriving and departing will total about 640,000.
The vessels being handled include twenty-seven liners. Four of the arrivals and five departures are of liners concluding or setting off on holiday cruises and eight of the ships leaving the port are taking returning holiday makers back to the United States and Canada.
Some quick "turns-round" are being made notably that of Empress of Britain which arrived last evening and leaves on Saturday after being refuelled, re-validated and cleaned up in thirty-six hours. The Andora Star which will have spent about the same time in port and the Strahald and Esperanza Bay which arrive to-day, depart on cruises to-morrow.
In addition to the trans-oceanic services, the port traffic is exceptionally heavy at present with channel steamer passengers of whom an average of 3,000 pass through the port daily.—British Wireless.

DEMAND FOR BRITISH STOCK

London, Sept. 7.
The feature of business on the London Stock Exchange, which was generally very restricted, was the continued investment demand for British Government securities, 3½ per cent. War Loan being unchanged at 105.1/16.
Three per cent. Funding Loan strengthened to a new high record of 99½. Consolidated 4 per cent. to 113.1/16 and 3 per cent. Local Loans to 92½.—British Wireless.

MEMBERSHIP OF LEAGUE

Soviet Entry To Be Discussed

Geneva, Sept. 7.
A secret meeting of the Council of the League of Nations has been convened for to-morrow afternoon to discuss the question of procedure in regard to the Soviet's admission to the League.
It is reported that, according to present plans, the Powers favouring the admission of Russia will put their names on a list headed by the members of the Council.
When over two-thirds of the signatures have been obtained, a proposal for the admission of the Soviet will be made before the Council without the possibility of a disagreeable surprise.
M. Barthou, the French Foreign Minister, had a long interview with Colonel Beck, the Foreign Secretary of Poland, this afternoon.
There is reason to believe that their meeting proceeded in an atmosphere that was not too cordial, but despite the recent growing divergence of Franco-Polish relations, it is not believed that Poland will oppose the admission of Russia or the granting of Russia a permanent seat on the Council.
It is expected that Colonel Beck will suggest a revision of the regulations governing elections to the Council and will re-assert Poland's claim to a permanent seat, without, however, making it conditional on her agreeing to admit the right of the Soviet to a permanent seat.—Reuter.

TREASURY BILLS

London, Sept. 7.
The total applied for in to-day's tenders for $35,000,000 Treasury bills was $54,370,000. The amount allotted in bills at three months was $23,000,000. The average rate per cent. was 13/10.09d, as compared with 14/4.47d. a week ago.—British Wireless.

CHINESE LOAN CONTROVERSY

German Banker's
Explanation

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
Berlin, Sept. 7.
At a meeting of shareholders of the Deutsch Asiatische Bank held in Berlin on September 4, the question was raised by a certain shareholder about the balance sheet assessment of the Chinese railway loans that have been in the bank's possession for almost ten years. The answer given to the shareholder by the director, Franz Urbig, has subsequently been reported by Reuter, has given rise to considerable comment.
Urbig accordingly issued the following statement on Friday: "The railway loans held by the Deutsch Asiatische Bank were evaluated in the balance sheet at no less than the prevailing market quotation because although in recent months, the market rates had been advanced as the result of the redemption of one coupon by the Tientsin-Pukow 1910 loan, the whole series of coupons still remain unredeemed so that these loans for the time being are still to be regarded as embarrassed."
Urbig adds that beyond giving this explanation he made no statement whatever and in any case was merely referring to it in a general way to the Chinese loans and the balance sheet evaluation. The German law prescribes heavy penalties for over assessment of balance sheet assets and, moreover, obliges the directors to account to shareholders for the method of evaluation if called upon by the shareholders for an explanation.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Some people still try to make out that the Disarmament Conference isn't dead. Well, as I was saying to Queen Anne only last night.....

GENERAL STAFF APPOINTMENT

Lt.-Col. Harrison
For China

London, Sept. 7.
Lieut.-Col. Harold Cecil Harrison, D.S.O., who has been in command of the 1st Battalion of the Green Howards since 1932, has been appointed General Staff Officer (First Grade) to the British Troops in China, effective in March next.
Colonel Harrison entered the Royal Marines in 1907 as a Second Lieutenant, and three years later became Lieutenant in the Royal Marines, Artillery. He was Assistant Adjutant, R. M. Artillery, on the outbreak of the Great War, and was seconded for service with South African contingents—first commanding a battery in German West Africa, and later the Transvaal Battery of South African Heavy Artillery in France.
Col. Harrison has also served on the General Staff in Singapore and at the War Office, was Instructor at the Quetta Staff College from 1930 to 1931, and was at the Imperial Defence College in 1932. He holds the Order of the Sacred Treasure of Japan, which was conferred on him in 1928.—Reuter.

BELGIAN MISSION AT NANKING

Nanking, Sept. 8.
Baron Janssen, Special Belgian Ambassador, was received by the President of China, Mr. Lin Shen, at noon to-day, when he officially informed the Chinese Government of the death of King Albert and of the accession to the Throne of King Leopold the Third.
The ceremony was followed by a banquet at which the Belgian Special Ambassador was the guest of honour.
Those present included the Belgian Minister to China, Baron J. Guillaume, members of the Janssen mission, Chinese Ministers and high officials.—Reuter.

VITAMIN C

Hungarian Professor's
Discovery

London, Sept. 8.
In an address on Vitamin C or Ascorbic acid at the British Association, Professor Szent Gyorgy, describes how he became interested in the properties of the Adrenal gland near the kidneys, defects in which cause skins of human beings to go brown. After extracting a peculiar substance with the properties of Vitamin C from the Adrenal glands of animals, he pursued his researches at Cambridge and prepared same substance from plants and later in large quantities in the United States. Subsequently in his native country, Hungary, he discovered that paprika contained a large quantity of this substance.
Chemical investigation in Birmingham and Zurich showed its constitution was surprisingly simple. Brilliant researches by Hawthorth, Reichstein and others proved it could be synthesised, and Professor Hawthorth and his colleagues recently discovered a simple method of enacting this vitamin to be manufactured at a cost of a few pence an ounce.
The process has been patented and the rights handed over to the British Government's Department of Scientific and Industrial Research and the proceeds are to be devoted to the advance of the science.—British Wireless.

AGRICULTURAL BANK

Canton, Sept. 8.
In reply to the Kit Yeung District Magistrate, Tse Hok Lin's proposal that an Agricultural Bank be established for the convenience and benefit of farmers and agriculturists, the Department of Finance has referred the matter to the Reconstruction Department for consideration.
It has been suggested that the capital for this bank be raised by a tax on agricultural land.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

HOME CRICKET

Gentlemen And Players

London, Sept. 8.
The cricket match at Scarborough between the Gentlemen and the Players was drawn.
Players: 368 for 8 dec. (Keeton 94) and 65 for 5 dec.
Gentlemen: 205 (Verity 6-57) and 203 for 9 (Wyatt 99).
At Folkestone, the Gentlemen beat the Players by three wickets.
Players: 186 (Read 5-78) and 280 (Geary 109).
Gentlemen: 258 (Freeman 5-69) and 212 for 7.
Bradman's Feet
Don Bradman with an aggregate of 2020 runs is the first Australian to pass 2000 runs for the tour, Stan McCabe has also reached 2000.
The following were the close of play scores to-day:—
Australians: 442 for 5 (D. G. Bradman 132 in 80 minutes, including one 6 and 24 fours, W. Ponsford 82, S. J. McCabe 123, not out, A. G. Chipperfield 51 not out) vs. Levenson-Gower's XI.
M.C.C.: 380 (C. F. Walters 63, R. H. Emsah 52, Hearne 111 not out, Freeman 6 for 199) v. Kent.—N. O. A. I. A. S.

Y.M.C.A. CENTENARY

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)
Bremen, Sept. 8.
The Young Men's Christian Association of Bremen founded by Pastor Friedrich Mallet, a hundred years ago, is at present celebrating its centenary with representatives from England, France, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Latvia and even India attending.
F. Sanders, head of the Bremen branch Y.M.C.A. extended a cordial welcome to his guests and in a brief address stressed the Y.M.C.A. maxim which reads—"One deed, one faith, one God."
Rudolf Klammt delivered the oration proper to the ceremonies while the foreign representatives also spoke conveying greetings from abroad.—Transocean Kuo Min.

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 9th.

The Golden Text was: "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8:14).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens...
When I consider the heavens, the work of the fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained: What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?.....
Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet;"
(Psalms 8: 1, 3, 4, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is, always has been,
and ever will be independent of matter; for Life is God, and man is the idea of God, not formed materially but spiritually,
and not subject to decay and dust.
The Psalmist said: "Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of Thy hands. Thou hast put all things under his feet"
(p.200).

LINER 534

Guide To Improved

Methods

(Special Air Mail Service)

Glasgow, Aug. 22.
The film has played an important part in connection with the construction of the Cunard-White Star liner No. 534, which will be launched by the Queen from the yard of John Brown and Co., at Clydebank, on September 26, and it may be expected to play an even more important part in the designing and building of the projected sister ship. After the launch of No. 534 a party of experts will see pictures showing every phase of the work that has gone to the construction of the liner. These pictures have been taken not merely as a record of the achievement, but also with the object of providing guidance to improved methods in the building of any other large vessel that may have to be constructed in the firm's yard.

A film will also be taken to record the displacement of water in the Clyde when the liner is launched, the direction and height of the wave that will be caused, and the depth to which the hull of the vessel will sink in the water. This pictorial record and

MISS EVELYN CHEN

Delightful Chinese

Entertainment

Hong Kong theatregoers had an opportunity over the week-end to see Miss Evelyn Chen the dance queen of China, when she appeared in a series of plays at the Queen's Theatre. Miss Chen is one of a troupe of very versatile Chinese operatic performers, and those who understand Chinese plays enjoyed immensely the clever acting and singing of her gear and the heavy machinery used in the construction of the liner are to be preserved encourage the hope here that any sister ship to be built will be entrusted to the same firm.

A LAUNCHING PROBLEM

One of the problems that the builders have to solve in a launch of this size in narrow waters is the overcoming of the way caused as the vessel slides down the ways. As she starts moving her upper portion will have a tendency to sway from bow to stern, which will disturb her balance. To overcome this, slits will be cut across the deck plates on the top deck. When the backward motion reaches these slits the opposing movements will neutralize each other and so tend to maintain balance.

The construction work is now well forward in preparation for the launching ceremony, and this week a night shift of riveters, platers, caulkers, riggers, and engineers will be engaged to ensure that everything is in readiness before the arrival of the King and Queen.

the fact that the special launch, China's dance queen.

The plays are presented in Mandarin, but even those among the large audience who saw Miss Chen who did not understand the language will have to admit that she is among the best of the nation's entertainers.

To appreciate Chinese opera one must understand the meaning of the gestures of the actor or actress on the stage. In the absence of stage scenery, there is a heavy call upon the performers to explain to the audience just where the scene of each incident takes place. Thus to indicate "house" the actor would move his hands in such a manner as to show he had to open a door before he got into the place. The feet similarly must step only in a certain way, as one movement would indicate riding, another walking, another fleeing from pursuit, another climbing up a mountain, and so on.

The Marlin Opera Company, of which Miss Chen is the "star" afforded the community the opportunity to see some good Chinese plays and those who have seen Chinese play-acting will agree that the novel experience is a thing not easily forgotten.

Any increase of the present so greatly increased railway wages is a setback to the return of permanent prosperity for our industries and our country.—Sir G. B. Hunter.

If a national housing policy is to be carried through effectively, a time and progress schedule is essential. So is the centralisation of finance.—Mr. Robert Boothby, M.P.

No small part of the heavy unemployment in the building trade must be attributable to the public disinclination to carry out household repairs in view of the high cost involved.—Mr. F. H. C. Talbot.

Control of competition is the essential task of the N.R.A.—General Johnson.

We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the new tariffs represent the first step in the Australian tariff to Anglo-Japanese and to Anglo-American manufactures.—Mr. H. G. Hughes (Director Joint Committee of Cotton Trade Organisations).

Employers are taking advantage of economic circumstances to force people to work seven nights a week without extra payment.—Mr. J. H. Keen (President Amalgamated Union of Operative Bakers).

The restriction of production will never be willingly accepted in Australia because it is a check to progress.—Mr. Lyons (Australian Prime Minister).

LITTLE MISS

MARKER

Shirley Temple

Scores

One of the sweetest personalities on the screen to-day, Shirley Temple scored a tremendous hit with "Little Miss Marker" which opened its run at the King's Theatre on Saturday and which drew crowded houses to this popular theatre over the week-end.

Shirley Temple has been described as a "little parcel of personality" and the description fits extremely well. She is cast in the part of a little girl who is deposited as a "security" for a bet and the story of how she grows up amongst the toughs, learning to speak in their rough and ready manner and how she did not "wanna any mush" is exceedingly well told in the picture.

Adolphe Menjou plays the part of one of the toughs very well and it was nothing short of a piece of superb acting to see him melting before the charms of innocent Shirley, the cute little girl who imagines that the rest of the toughs are knights of King Arthur's Round Table!

"Little Miss Marker" is exceedingly good entertainment, and in keeping with the usual high standard entertainment which they are accustomed to provide their patrons, the management of the King's Theatre have been very considerate in their choice of the two shorts which precede the feature film.

THE OTHER

BATTLE

Bright Idea Holds

Up The Play

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.
As at all the other Test Matches this year, there was another fight in progress at the Oval on Saturday—a battle of wits between the people who have the exclusive rights to film the match and the "pirates."

At the Nottingham Test, you remember balloons played a part in this "sideshow."

On Saturday, at the Oval, there were no balloons. There were searchlights instead.

The people with the right to make the films put up two big revolving arc lamps on a house overlooking the ground. They had hit on the idea of flashing the lights on the cameras of the "pirates" who had their cameras on buildings at the other side of the ground.

Play Stopped Again
About half an hour after play began the searchlights came into action.

But unfortunately the powerful beams swept across the ground and immediately there was a protest from the Australian batsmen.

Play was held up for a few minutes while an umpire walked over and remonstrated with the men in charge of the searchlights.

The crowd joined in. "Put that light out," they shouted. For a time the "pirates" worked their cameras unhindered. Then the lights shone out again. This time there were protests from some of the crowd. They said the lights prevented them seeing the game.

Then a couple of police officers had a word with the searchlight men, who promised to be more careful.

Just before the luncheon interval the lights held up the game again for about three minutes. Both umpires walked over to the operators this time, and it was afterwards said that the lamps would be taken down.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Famous Judge

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.
Lord Justice Scrutton, president of the second Court of Appeal, died in a nursing home at Norwich on Saturday. The announcement of his death was not made until yesterday.

He had been, since July, on holiday at Sheringham, a favourite summer resort of his for fourteen years. He was taken ill suddenly on Friday, and was removed to a Norwich nursing home. He would have been 78 on the 28th of this month.

Sir Thomas Edward Scrutton had been a judge for twenty-four years and a member of the Court of Appeal for eighteen years. He was known as a sound lawyer, and had a reputation for outspokenness in his judicial comments.

Among the most recent cases to come before his Court were the Rasputin film action and the Bevir-Eurt White litigation.

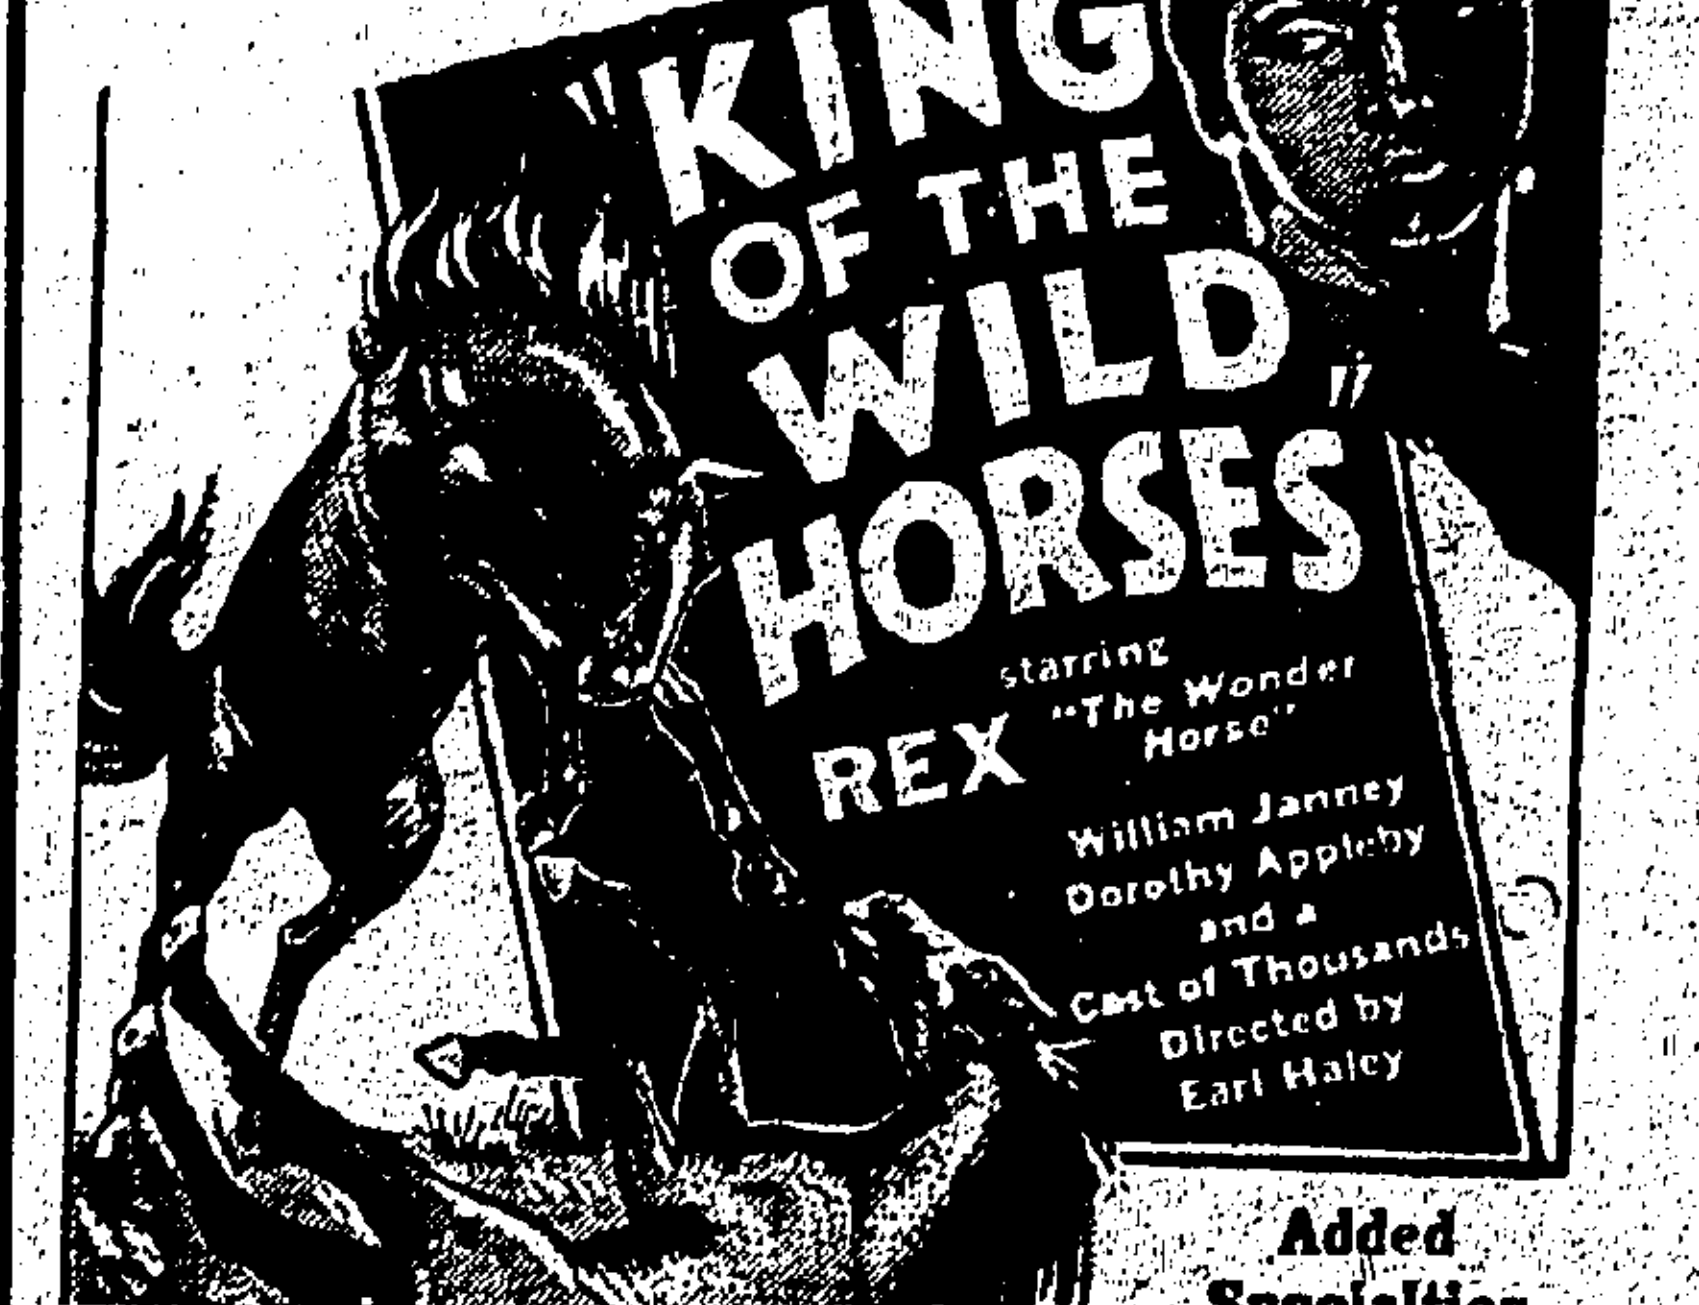

In 1932 he came into sharp conflict with the late Mr. Justice McCordie over the conduct by the latter of the "Helen of Troy" case.

Prisoner's Death

Sitting as Coroner at Kowloon Magistrate on Saturday, Mr. Wynne-Jones conducted an inquiry into the death of Li Oi, a 57 year old female prisoner at Lanchuk Prison who died at 1.25 p.m. on Friday from typhoid fever.

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the jury consisting of Messrs. L. G. Robertson (foreman), S. MacNider and K. Gerloff.

Mrs. J. Pearson, matron at the prison, stated that deceased was sentenced to one month's hard labour with the option of paying $25 fine on August 14 and was admitted to the prison the same day.

Dr. J. B. Mackie, the medical officer at Lanchuk Prison, testified that when deceased was admitted he put her on half-labour owing to her moderate condition. On August 28, she was admitted to hospital suffering from typhoid fever and died on Friday, September 7.

Another Inquest

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the jury consisting of Messrs. J. Gardener (foreman), L. Kwan Shek and Ko Yau Cheong at an inquiry into the death of Lam Lai Yin, alias Lam Yu Hui, a prisoner at Victoria Gaol, who died on Friday afternoon. The enquiry was held before Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistrate on Saturday.

Chief Warder H. Barrett said that the deceased who was serving a term of nine months' hard labour was admitted into the gaol hospital on August 29 and died on Friday afternoon. He was admitted to the gaol on August 1.

Dr. J.A.R. Selby, acting prison medical officer, said that deceased was suffering from bacillary dysentery when he was admitted to the hospital and became progressively worse until he died. The cause of death in his opinion was due to bacillary dysentery complicated by pneumonia.

BANISHEE RETURNS

Before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistrate on Saturday morning, Yuen Ki Tong, a returned banishee, pleaded guilty in the dock to a charge of returning to the Colony, before his term of banishment had expired.

It was stated by the Police that the accused was banished from the Colony on the 13th March 1934 for a period of ten years. On Friday night, the accused was recognized by a Chinese detective, who accordingly arrested him in Queen's Road Central.

The accused told the Court that he returned to the Colony to ask his friend for some money. A sentence of twelve months' imprisonment with hard labour was passed.

POLICE LIBELLED

A charge of maliciously publishing on August 31, a false and defamatory libel concerning the Hong Kong Police, in the form of an anonymous letter to the Inspector General of Police, was preferred against Goro Kurata, a 46 year old Japanese photographer, before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistrate yesterday.

The letter was alleged to have contained the following: "All these heads are the best friend of the Police Department of Wanchai are under the influence of bribery."

Accused was remanded for a week, bail being allowed at $5,000. Mr. Leo d'Almeida is appearing for the defendant while Mr. L. H. V. Booth, director of criminal intelligence, is prosecuting.

HOUSE OF ILL-FAME

As a result of a Police raid on Friday night, a Chinese named Wong Tsol, made his appearance before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning, on a charge of keeping a shew-brothel at No. 52, Lockhart Road, 3rd floor, Wanchai.

The prosecuting officer said that during the raid, several girls were found in the premises, and the accused also attempted to escape, but was eventually arrested.

The accused pleaded guilty and was fined $250 or six weeks' hard labour in default.

NO VALID PASSPORTS

Three Filipinos, Mauro Dayan, Memelo Christobal and Clodolito Arretia, were charged before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistrate on Saturday with entering the Colony without valid passports.

It was stated that the three men came to the Colony last Friday by the Empress of Russia and since then had been seeking employment here. Arrangements had been made to send the men back to Manila by the Empress of Japan next Friday.

Meanwhile the three men were released on $100 bail each until Friday.

RUSSIAN STOWAWAY

Peter Denisoff, a 20-year old Russian, was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistrate on Saturday for stowing away on board the s.s. President Coolidge from Manila. It was stated the defendant was found on board the boat an hour before the ship arrived at Hong Kong on Friday. An expulsion order was also made.

For the theft of a jacket from a motor-lorry driver, Chan Yan, 17, was sentenced by Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistrate on Saturday to two weeks' hard

PETERSON-GAINS FIGHT BROADCAST

London, Sept. 8.
Judge Merriman declined to make an order on the application of Mr. Jeff Dickson, the fight promoter, for an injunction to restrain the British Broadcasting Corporation, from broadcasting a report or a comment on the Peterson-Gains fight on Monday.

The B.B.C. undertook, before Judge Merriman, not to induce anyone to break the contract with Dickson and not to commit trespass by their officers, servants and agents on the occasion of the fighting.

It was stated the complainant was sleeping in his lorry when the theft was committed.

INTERNATIONAL ROAD CONGRESS

Munich, Sept. 8.
A number of foreign government representatives now attending the international road congress whose members are touring South Germany for the purpose of inspecting Germany's technical "wonders" have been invited by the Reich Government to a Zeppelin cruise over the new motor roads. The guests will ride in two groups on Friday next from Friedrichshafen to Frankfurt. The international road congressmen numbering 1,200 are deeply impressed by the things they saw thus far.

OPIUM DIVAN MURDER.

Victim A New Arrival

It has now been established that the man who was found dead on Friday evening at the junction of Hollywood Road and Tung Street with a stab wound just above the heart, was Cheung Shap Yee, alias Shop Yee, aged about 25, a native of Kau Kong Market, Nam Hoi District.

Enquiries made by the police elicited the information that the man came to Hong Kong only recently and occupied a bed space on the cockloft above the kitchen at No. 207, Hollywood Road which he kept as an opium divan.

TRAINING GALLOPS

Gladiator In Good Trim: Good Performance By Classic Hall

(BY "MORNING DEW")

Saturday's training performances were somewhat marred by a steady downpour of rain. The most impressive performance of the day was a mile gallop by Gladiator, the last three quarters of a mile being done in 1.36.4 with the last quarter in 28.2. This pony appears to have improved considerably since the first half of the season.

Another good performance was that of Soldier of Germany, who was sent over a mile and a quarter. This pony, too, is much better now than at the beginning.

Able Amazon, Bronze Era, and Just That were amongst the Australians which went very well.

Classic Hall did an impressive gallop over a mile going over the distance with Royal Flush. This pony appears to have a strong claim for the main subscription griffin event (1 1/2 miles) on September 22.

The following times were clocked on Saturday:—

PUBLICITY FOR SHARE TRANSACTIONS-

Study Of Volume Important

(By H. O. Odell)

It has been definitely established that exchanges for dealing in securities are necessary and valuable to our commercial and economic life. The savings of the people find their way into the securities market. They become investors and make possible our manufacturing concerns, our utilities, our banks, our shipping companies, our dock companies, our wharf companies, etc.

Without the investor—however small—it is impossible to have organized security markets, operating freely and openly.

Exchanges must seek to render service to these people, instead of merely achieving profits.

The people are entitled to a liquid market, a barometer of actual economic conditions and not one bounced about by the fancies of manipulators. I am not suggesting that share prices should be higher or lower but I do suggest that the methods of the Exchanges do not permit the investor to judge for himself whether the scrip he is holding is worth the price it's written on. I have suggested to the exchanges the following reforms:

1st.—Wide publicity regarding the number of shares traded in as well as the prices at which the transactions have taken place, cash and forward. This is done everywhere else in the world. Apart from other good reasons financial authorities tell us that the study of the volume of transactions is very important in its relation to the extent to which forced liquidation has progressed.

2nd.—Marginal requirements for forward trading. Is it believable that security levels may be, and are established through the purchase or sale of stock in unlimited quantities for any future delivery by any person or persons having no financial resources whatever? In the past this situation brought about fantastic booms. To-day it affects our economy. Do the exchanges believe that investors will continue to permit such a condition to determine the value of their savings? Can the Banks permit their credit facilities to be determined by such a condition? It cannot be denied that forward transactions, carrying no immediate financial responsibility with them, are a ruling factor to-day in appraising the cost values of an investor's holdings.

3rd.—Differentiation between broker and trader. This is a subject to be gone into at length. I will endeavour in my next article to show why a broker cannot and should not serve two masters at the same time—the investor and himself; or have I put the cart before the horse?

PRINCE'S MODEL ELOCUTION

Short Words And Slow Delivery

(Special Air Mail Service)

The Prince of Wales's elocution was described as a model for speakers by Mr. H. St. John Rumsey, instructor for speech defects at Guy's Hospital, London, when addressing the New Health Society's summer school at Malvern yesterday.

"The Prince," he said "is a great example of how to speak. Anybody who has heard him broadcast knows that he is quite a slow speaker, and uses very short phrases. The result is that he carries his audience with him right through his speech."

"Most people talk so fast that you only hear part of what they say. An important thing in curing speech defects is to concentrate on vowels. I accuse a great many schools of elocution in London of teaching the easy part—they concentrate on consonants. Yet large numbers of schools of elocution give diplomas for exaggerated consonants and a smattering of stage-craft."

Mr. Shaw's Problem

Mr. Bernard Shaw, who was in the audience, asked a question about an actor who was not performing at the Malvern Theatre. In ordinary speech, said Mr. Shaw, "he has apparently an incorrigible stammer, but on the stage not only does he not stammer, but he cannot stammer."

"At the beginning of his career authors and producers and people of that kind, finding that he stammered, gave him stammering parts—a horrible thing for an author to put on the stage, because people will always laugh at stammering."

"He was given parts of that kind, and he could not stammer when he wanted to. What is the explanation?"

Mr. Rumsey said that the explanation was that when the actor was on the stage, and saw a room full of people, instinct told him to send his voice across the room. The moment he was not on the stage he thought of his voice again.

"Thirty years ago," said Mr. Rumsey "a stammering expert took a large residence in the Midlands, and took everybody in because he realised that the stammerer might be able to speak on the stage."

"He only let the parents come down when his stammering pupils were doing amateur theatricals. The parents used to see their children speaking fluently on the stage, and they went back to London delighted."

CHURCH HALL OPENED

Bishop Hall Performs Ceremony

In the presence of a large congregation of parishioners on Saturday afternoon, the Right Rev. Ronald Hall, Bishop of Victoria, officially declared open the All Saints' Church Hall and Primary School Building, adjoining the Church, in Homunin.

The other clergy who took part in the opening ceremony, held in the main hall, were the Very Rev. Dean A. Swann, the Rev. J. R. Higgs, Archdeacon Mok, the Rev. Tsang Kit-ngoh (Vicar of All Saints' Church), the Rev. Lee Kin-yan, the Rev. Lee Ying-pui, the Rev. S. F. Tso and the Rev. Chung Yan-lap.

After the service, the Very Rev. Dean Swann addressed the congregation. He said that the new building in its capacity as a day-school and Sunday-school would help to foster the teaching of Our Lord and in preparing the younger generation for their life in this world. He stressed that children were never to young to begin to learn of Christianity if they were taught in the proper way.

Subscribers Thanked

The new building would not only be a place of a training for the younger generation but a house of meeting and fellowship for the older ones. "Anything that brings us together as members of one great family is in accordance with the teachings of our Heavenly Father," said Dean Swann.

The Rev. Tsang Kit-ngoh, speaking in Chinese, thanked all the subscribers towards the building fund and the many who had assisted in making the work of the building possible. He paid particular tribute to the assistance of Messrs. Wong Sar-kan, Lam Kam-kwong, Wong Shu-to, Dr. K. K. Wong (Hon. Treasurer) and the late Mr. Ho Lun, whose work as Hon. Secretary in the Church had been of the greatest help. He also thanked the European clergy for their attendance, and the Hong Kong Government for the grant of the building site.

The Concert

A grand opening concert was held in the new Church Hall at 7.30 p.m., and was attended by a large number of parishioners.

A selection of well rendered vocal and musical items filled the programme, which was as follows:

Hymn "O God our Help"—The Congregation.
Prayer—Rev. Li Kau Yuan.
Short Speech—The Pastor.
Dumb Show—Our Gang.
Vocal Duets—Miss R. Mow Fung, Mrs. A. E. Herdman.

The Building

The building, the foundation stone of which was laid by the Bishop on June 16 last, is an imposing single-storeyed structure with two side wings attached to the main hall. These provide a vicarage on one side and classrooms for the All Saints' Kindergarten and Primary School on the other side. The foundations of the building provide for two upper floors to the building, and these will be added at a later date. The total area of the building and its grounds cover over 11,000 square feet.

KIENSI NOTES

All The Gossip Of The Town

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Kienai, Aug. 21.

Since my last letter to you I have been to Anshuen, 5 days to the S.W. from here. We still travel by the old well established cool method, so can get through on schedule time. There are signs that ere long our motor road will be open for traffic. Most of the way is fully graded and surfacing well advanced, and a number of bridges which had kept everything in abeyance are now nearing completion. When the road is completed and they begin running the poor old derelict cars which are in vogue on the Kwei-yang-Anshuen line we shall have the privilege of sitting calmly by the wayside in a broiling sun or pelting rain while the bucking engine is being coaxed into good behaviour and the much patched tyres give another layer. Then we shall give thanks for advanced civilization. It is pitiful to see these motor companies, trying to keep up a decent service in spite of the multiplied impossibilities; Rough, steep roads; High cost of cars; Poorly trained drivers; Entire lack of repair service; Exorbitant official charges, both in fixed charges and commandeering of cars without pay; High cost of petrol and oil; Lack of experience in management; and I know not what other difficulties. Some of these will disappear with development of the roads, but some seem almost inherent in conditions of life. I fear there will be needed some exotic influence to make possible a really dependable transit service.

New Source of Revenue

It looks as though officialdom has found a fine new source of revenue in these new highways. The roads are built with impressed labour, not one cent being furnished from official coffers, poor starving farmers having to do the work when they need to be at their fields, without pay, food or tools, being furnished; then when the road is finished it belongs to the military despots who immediately begin taxing to the limit the users of the road, and compel the people to maintain a repair service at no cost to the official gang. And the nice basket of eggs from this new fowl goes into the same old military chest for protection of the dear people—from whom?

Kweichow is likely to be hard hit for public funds this year. Opium is dead. The crop was fairly good, but there is no market. One man told me the other day of his loss. Some time ago he bought new opium at $36. per 100 oz. After holding it till it has dried and cured, of course decreasing considerably in weight, he has sold it at $29. per 100. It would be good news to learn that it is restriction of use in other provinces which causes this stagnation. But I fear it is rather increase of production elsewhere that is responsible. Anyhow, Kweichow will feel the pinch, for there is no other export from the province sufficient to support commerce. When people can get ready money for opium they have not money to buy goods, so general business as well as government finances will suffer—is suffering now.

While we were in Anshuen there was a conference between Prov. Dictator Wang and his strongest rival, Yu Kueh Tsai. The boundary between their spheres of control has been the Wua Kiang river, 50 mi. W. of Anshuen. Ever since Wang drove Yu from the capital the bridges across this river have been dismantled, hostile forces being entrenched on the opposite sides of the gorge to keep people from replacing the planks of the bridge. Yu was invited to meet Wang at Anshuen, and popular report said he would come; but evidently that was too far within the territory of his enemy, so Wang had to go on to a place quite near the border where Yu met him under a strong escort of his own soldiers. It is hard to know just what passed between them. Wang is still in possession of the capital, Yu holds his eight districts as before with the euphonious title of "Bandit and Communist Suppressor for the Whole Province." The bridges have been replaced and the boundary guards withdrawn; but nobody supposes there is any more peace than there was before.

Danish Citizens ill-treated. A very strong incident happened at Anlong Hsien recently. Mr. and Mrs. Rostov, Danish citizens, had to come to Anshuen for medical attention. They were bringing with them their servant woman who had been with Mrs. Rostov for months. When they got outside the city gate they were beset by a mob of several hundred men, led by a coolie who was said to be the husband of the servant woman. The woman escaped into the house of some relative, Mrs. Rostov and their luggage were not disturbed, but Mr. Rostov was beaten, kicked and dragged about with threats of "Kill," and finally dragged off to the yamen by the coolie, who accused Rostov of running away with his wife. So far as they know the woman has had absolutely nothing to do with her husband for 7 years, making her own living by serving in families. Arrived at the yamen a request to see the Magistrate was passed off with the word that he was asleep and could not be disturbed. After a long wait some military officer came in and took the coolie under arrest and assured Mr. Rostov that they would attend to him, and called a chair to take Mr. Rostov back to his house, as it was then too late to start on the journey and Mr. Rostov was too badly mauled to travel. He wrote letters to both the Magistrate and the Colonel in charge of some troops in the city, but received no reply or any assurance of protection the next day, when he assured them the journey must be taken. Next morning after much delay and inquiry they found an escort of 5 men, detailed to accompany them 10 li on the way. But there was no explanation of what the incident was all about or intimation that they will be protected when they return. It is quite puzzling.

LOCAL WEDDING

Gowland-Elberby

St. John's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when Miss E. M. Elberby, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elberby of County Durham, was married to Mr. C. M. Gowland, warder at Laichikok Gaol, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gowland of Anfield Plain, County Durham.

The Rev. H. W. Baines conducted the ceremony, with Mr. F. Mason, F.R.C.O., at the organ.

Dressed in a charming bridal gown of honey beige lace, with a floral beret in toning shades, the bride made a charming picture as she walked up the aisle on the arm of Mr. A. P. Spoor by whom she was given away.

The flower girl, Miss Isabelle Spoor, wore an old-world gown of rose georgette, trimmed with tiny rose-buds and silver leaves. She also wore a wreath of roses and silver leaves, silver slippers, and carried a large black cat.

She was accompanied by little Master Spoor, as page-boy, dressed as cupid in silver and blue, and carrying a silver bow and arrow.

After a reception, held at the Gloucester Building, the happy couple left for Macao, where they are spending their honeymoon. The bride's going-away dress was of grey-blue crepe with grey satin shoes.

Cool Nights

Present crop prospects for this part of the province are very good. Price of grain is falling rather than rising. The corn (maize) crop is already ripening, quite well up to the average production; rice is just at the blooming stage. If it can get a few days of dry weather until the bloom is finished and grain fertilized there will certainly be a good yield. So people are glad at the prospect of plentiful food.

We have had a delightfully cool season thus far. Very hot sunshine of course some days, but never a night the least bit uncomfortable with heat. There has been much rain, so that the earth has kept cool; and the air is always pleasant. Some of you coast travellers will appreciate running up on to this plateau for summer vacation when communications are better.

NATIONAL DAY OF YOUTH

Berlin, Sept. 8.

Non-Aryan school children will no longer suffer discrimination in the new "national day of Youth" which gives over every sixth schoolday to political instruction, according to the revision of the regulations issued by the Minister of Education, Herr Rust on Saturday. Non-Aryan boys and girls may also henceforth participate in special classes of history and event and camp matches if parents make application.

IS LIBERALISM DANGEROUS?

It has often been said that liberalism is both a virtue and a fault. It is a virtue when it means improved standards of living, general security and happiness but it is likely to be looked upon as a fault when it threatens to disturb any considerable number of persons in the enjoyment of material wealth, possessions or positions. There is, however, a conflict of opinion as to where the virtues of liberalism merge into its faults, but it may be said in this connection that much depends on who is doing the thinking. So when American women, in convention, are warned against "teachers in United States schools and colleges who, under the guise of liberalism, are undermining the American ideals of young people," one may justifiably wonder exactly who is to differentiate between the "guise of liberalism" and the reality of liberalism. It would be hard for the thoughtful person to fail to recognize that many difficulties confronting the peoples of the world to-day may be attributed to the previous lack of liberalism, namely a lack of intelligent sympathy and generosity in considering the status or needs of the underprivileged and often uncivilized white-collar and no-collar working classes. By persons of limited vision who yet enjoy privileged positions, even the most altruistic

THE NEW STAMPS

The 1½d. On Sale

London, Aug. 22.
The new 1½d. stamps will be on sale at all post-offices to-morrow. The new penny will be ready next month, and those of other values will follow at intervals.

In actual design there is little change in the new stamps, but they are deeper and richer in colour than those they are replacing. This is the first time in Post office history, Sir Kingsley Wood, the Postmaster-General, points out, that our stamps are printed by the photogravure process. Up to 1880 the 1d. and 2d. stamps, which were brought into use in 1840, and the 1d. and 1½d. stamps, which were first issued in 1870, were line engraved.

Surface printing was first adopted in 1855 for the 4d. stamps, and has been used for stamps of the value of 2d. and below since 1880.

The printing of the new stamps is being done by Harrison's from cylinders bearing etched reproductions of photographic originals.

The process permits of light and shade being introduced and produces, Sir Kingsley thinks it will be agreed, a more artistic effect than surface printing.

In answer to the criticism one occasionally hears that our stamps remain unaltered, he remarks that it is a valued tradition of Great Britain that they should always bear the empy of the ruling Sovereign.

critics have been labelled "radicals."

In our times the persecution goes on. The expression of non-conformist views has been firmly and effectually halted in Russia, Italy, Germany, Japan, and many other countries. Even in the United States such groups as the American Legion and the Daughters of the American Revolution rubber-stamp as "unpatriotic" and "un-American" most persons advocating peaceful or conciliatory action to solve national and international problems, while many business groups are equally quick to oppose the distribution upon a more equitable basis of wealth and opportunities.

Now the national defence chairman of the D.A.R. warns against "subversive teachers" in schools and colleges, and advocates their "elimination." Of course no one wants teachers to attack the Government in the classroom, but neither do intelligent citizens wish to eliminate liberal teachers who are "subversive" only by a definition which would bar Jane Addams and William Allen White. One remembers instances in which able educators have been driven from the schools by just such patrioteering and quite without regard for the possible soundness of the ideas involved.

Is one never to be permitted to hope that generous liberalism ultimately will carry humanity to better things without the drag of a fear-born reaction? True liberalism makes for progress. The name of liberalism is no more abused by those who use it as a cloak for license than by those who, through hatred of any change, miscall liberalism "radicalism."

BANDITS IN CHENGCHOW

Surprise Attack On City

Siangtan, Hu., August 2.
Word has come from Chengchow in South Hunan, that a communist army made a surprise attack on the city and the government troops were defeated. Mr. Robert Johnston and Mrs. L. G. Gelwick were compelled to leave the city immediately and, since there were no buses, had to walk. They walked all night Thursday night, August 18, and until three p.m. on Friday. They finally got a bus to Lel Yang, the half way point between Chengchow and Hengchow, and another bus from there to Hengchow.

There were hundreds of refugees, and they had to fight for tickets on the bus. They arrived in Hengchow safely on Friday evening at 7 p.m. Rumours were numerous and wild. One could hear anything he desired. Word came through by long distance telephone on Sunday, August 19, that the Reds came within two miles of the city and left for the western city Kweiyangchow. This is only a part of the forces which have been driven out of Kiangsi by the Government troops and are planning to join up with communists in Szechuen and Kweichow.

So far as reported the city of Chengchow was not looted or any damage done. It was feared that the city was burned and looted after the defeat of the government troops.

Buses Commandeered
All buses on the Chengchow-Hengchow line were commandeered on Saturday, August 18. General Lui transported soldiers all that day from Changsha and other points to Hengchow and Chengchow, so that the situation so far as these cities are concerned is good.

No one knows yet what route these forces are taking to Kweichow, but that there has been intercourse between Kiangsi Reds and Ho Lung in Szechuen has been known for months.

The Rev. Howard Smith, who so marvelously escaped from Ho Lung's camp recently, seems to be fully recovered from his strenuous and hair-breadth escapes. He is in Kikungshan with his family.

Marshal Chiang's Visit

Marshal Chiang Hsueh-liang made a visit to Kikung recently and stirred that quiet resort into almost feverish excitement. He played tennis and was fêted by all the leading citizens of the resort. It is reported that lack of a golf course made him leave more quickly than he at first expected.

It has been a rather dry summer at Kikung and the new swimming pool, when emptied the first time was a long time, in filling again.

It is full now and is a great attraction. The powers that be are very anxious to get some promise of security from bandits for the months when not used for a summer resort. The American school opens on September 4 here and security is desired for that school.

There are prospects of a motor road being pushed through from Hankow to the top of Kikung. If and when this is accomplished a new era will be for this resort.

SIR N. PLAYFAIR DEAD

Creator Of Lyric, Hammersmith

(Special Air-Mail Service).

London, Aug. 22.
Sir Nigel Playfair, one of the most prominent figures in English theatrical art, and well-known as actor, producer and manager, died yesterday in King's College Hospital. He was 60 years of age.

Sir Nigel was taken ill on the last day of July, when rehearsing for "As You Like It," at the Open Air Theatre in Regent's Park. It was thought to be only a chill, but serious developments followed, and last week he was taken to hospital where he underwent an operation.

He died peacefully in his sleep. Lady Playfair and their three sons were with him at the end.

The great achievement of his life was his management of the Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith, when he converted an almost derelict house into one of the most popular theatres in London. There he produced a long series of revivals of classical works of past centuries, beginning with "The Beggar's Opera" in 1920. He resigned his management in 1932.

£70 A Year As Barrister

Mr. George W. Bishop writes:—
The last time that I met Sir Nigel Playfair was at the first night of Mr. John Drinkwater's play, "A Man's House," at Malvern, on July 23. He had motored up from London with some friends from the Open Air Theatre and rushed back to Town for rehearsal very early the next morning.

Only a week or two before he told me that acting and rehearsal in the sunshine at Regent's Park had made him very fit. Freed from production work, Sir Nigel has given this year some of the best performances of his career. When the open-air season started he was acting in "Libel" at the Playhouse, and it is a tragic coincidence that his last part in a West-end theatre should be as counsel in a stage trial. For he started his career as a barrister, and practised for one year, actually earning £70.

In the best sense Sir Nigel always remained an amateur. He took to the theatre because he loved it, and during his tenancy at Hammersmith he produced the plays that pleased him. He made very little money at the Lyric, but he made history.

Sir Ben Greet, who took Sir Nigel's part in "As You Like It," when he fell ill, said last night: "He made his first appearance in one of my companies 30 years ago, and it was there that he met his wife. His first appearance, like his last, was in the open air. We were playing 'As You Like It' and other Shakespearean plays in the Botanic Gardens."

PRETTY WEDDING AT GLASGOW

Sir Harold Yarrow's Daughter Married

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.
The wedding of Miss Audrey Yarrow, eldest daughter of Sir Harold Yarrow, Bt., Craigend Castle, Milngavie, and Mr. Harry Duncanson Boyd, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watson Boyd was solemnised yesterday in St. Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow. The Bishop of Glasgow and the Rev. Canon Aitken, Provost of St. Mary's Cathedral, officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dignified gown of rich cream satin cut on slim-fitting lines. Embroidered flowers on the train and foot of the gown were cut away to reveal the palest shade of pink showing through the leaves. Her jewels consisted of a pearl necklace and diamond watch, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a sheaf of white lilies.

In attendance upon Miss Yarrow were seven bridesmaids—the Misses Sheila Yarrow, Esmi Yarrow, Billy Royds, Jean Gamble, Jeanette MacDonnell, Marjorie Smith, and the Hon. Rosemary Dawson—who were becomingly dressed in chiffon shading from the palest of pink to a delicate

If Gossip We Must

By STOPGAR

"Here's the Speedboat." Lieut. J. C. Richardson, South Wales Borderer, at the M.C.L. Gala at Repulse Bay

One of these days when I have made my fortune cornering wheat or safety pins, I shall put on a "Show of Shows," and I shall call it "Glorifying the Hong Kong Girl." There will be an enormous band and free champagne, and an endless (or almost endless) procession down a flight of marble stairs of all Hong Kong's most beautiful girls.

BACK TO DEATH

However, it is likely to be a long time before this unlikely contingency arises. In the meantime the same effect is realised in the local hotels on Saturday nights. Last week it was fuller than ever. It seems amazing to me that for every ten lovely creatures I know, there are at least twenty that I don't know, always including, of course, the one radiant girl whom no one has ever seen before, who must come off a ship. At the Hong Kong Hotel it was very hot. Most people preferred to sit on the terrace, so the dance floor was not as crowded as it might have been.

THE FROCKS

I thought the dresses were unusually interesting. There were fewer old friends among them, probably owing to the heat. The moment a woman gets irritated or bored she rushes off to get a new frock. That is why interesting husbands are really quite an economy.

The palm this week was taken by Margaret King, who wore a beautifully simple frock of heavy white crepe, with a red flower at the shoulder. Her sister, Rosemary, was in spotted organdie. Mrs. Grossman looked very smart in an original dress of a red white and black, finely checked, material. Yvonne Shenton wore a subtle black frock which she tells me she designed herself. It is made of black "coolie cloth" with an original gathered neck. Her opposite number Bee Walker was in white with a blue pin stripe. Mrs. Bryte favoured green with a silver tissue cape slit at the shoulders. Others I noticed were Patricia Chester-Master in green, Moreen Cooper in red, and Eve O'Hagen in pink with a spray of pink flowers. And did you see how ravishingly sweet were Mrs. Maclean and Mme. de Precourt?

FIRST CLASS HOTEL

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond had a big party while Mrs. Hartman and Miss Daisy O'Keefe were looking as smart as ever. Mrs. J. K. Jones in a Caricoa dress was accompanied by her husband and Mrs. Langston too also went with "Mr."—She looked extremely becoming in a large check design organdie dress. Mrs. A. V. Harvey was there, in a mixed coloured tissue dress—Mrs. D. D. Mackay, in a gown of green with a silver short jacket looked so charming that many were the glances that were cast in her direction. Mrs. Fay Grossman had a party with her and the Simmons sisters were there too, looking as pretty as ever.

The evening was a huge success despite the heat and Mr. Plovenelli and his staff are to be congratulated on the excellent way everything was conducted. And last but by no means least, a pat on the back for the chef for the very excellent dinner. I think people in Hong Kong are extremely fortunate in that they have such an institution as the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels. As a friend from Singapore said to me, so long as we have the "H. S. H." life in the Colony need never be dull.

THE EVENING'S PLAY

The feature of the evening was the Cabaret. The Empire Trio, those clever dancers who have been entertaining us for the last fortnight, continued to do so. In addition Sands and Dawn, who were so successful here last year, have returned to what promises to be fresh triumphs this season.

INTERLUDE

"It grew so hot inside, that after the cabaret I grabbed a misguided male and made for a motor. Thence to Repulse Bay for a blow. To my surprise, in spite of the crowd we had left behind, here was another one almost as big, and just as animated. I was not there for very long, but had time to notice a few friends. Commodore and Mrs. Elliot had a large party. Major and Mrs. Ledgerwood of the Punjab Regiment, returned from Japan. And Audrey Steele looking pett and pretty as ever.

OTHER BUSINESS

Space forbids detailed mention of the other numerous events in this busy week. The U.S.R.C. dance on Tuesday, Harold Scott's recital at the Helena May Institute, Macao Races (too late to go to press) where those intrepid amazons, the Sisters Fair, battle for victory.

And last but not least, the M.C.L. picnic at Repulse Bay. Perhaps I'm not good at ministering to children. There was one small boy who kept handing me half masticated cakes and watching me till I ate them. "Too, too scorbolic, my dear!"

After a visit to the Ice Cream Stall, Miss Pat Anslow at the M.C.L. Gala.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Only one case of enteric fever was reported for the 24 hours ended on September 7.

FRENCH AND ITALIAN FRIENDSHIP

Political Interest In Reports

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1895. Received, September 8, 4.30 p.m.)

London, Sept. 8. The Franco-Italian entente foreshadowed in the long reports of all papers is creating tremendous interest here although the first announcements of the conclusion of an anti-German military alliance between the two Latin Powers has been officially denied in Paris.

The "Times" points out that France and Italy are alarmed by Germany's rearmament, and criticises Germany's policy in abandoning the League of Nations. The paper, however, stresses the difficulties in the way of a Franco-Italian understanding, one of the greatest of which is to be found in the existing friendship between France and Yugoslavia. The paper doubts the probability of Franco-Italian naval agreement. The political correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" says a Franco-Italian understanding concerning navies would be cordially welcomed in London. This unusually well-informed correspondent refuses to credit the reports of a military alliance.

The Rome correspondent of the "Morning Post" says that Franco-Italian negotiations are in no way aiming at the conclusion of an alliance for the purpose of encircling Germany. The paper itself in a leading article, warmly advocates "firm friendship" between France and Italy.

M. BARTHOU'S VISIT
(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Geneva, Sept. 7. The long rumoured Italian visit of the French Foreign Minister, M. Barthou, has been definitely fixed for October 15-20, according to reports here on Friday. Preparations for this meeting with Mussolini in Rome will be completed between M. Barthou and Baron Aloisi in Geneva during the present League of Nations session, and it is expected that the discussions will chiefly centre round questions of the colonial policy of their fleet.

RUSSIA'S AND THE LEAGUE

Objections Overcome

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Paris, Sept. 8. That M. Barthou's efforts in Geneva with a view of securing Russia's entry into the League and the grant of a seat on the Council, for her will be crowned with success, is the opinion of the Press this morning. The correspondents report that Barthou had succeeded in waving aside Argentina's and Portugal's fears and that even the Polish foreign minister Beck had proved to be less "refractory."

The "Petit Parisien" asserts that Poland will not directly oppose Russia's admittance but apparently wishes to avail herself of the opportunity to rid herself of a minority of treaties that would also apply to Soviet Russia. "Oeuvre" is positive that Litvinoff will enter the League on September 18.

STRIKE IN SPAIN

Tense Situation

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1895. Received, September 8, 7.30 p.m.)

Madrid, Sept. 8. A general strike has been proclaimed here in the morning, all employees of tramcars and underground buses, leaving work. It is believed the newspapers will also suspend publication since the employers have received strike orders. The situation is tense. It is believed the Government will proclaim a state of alarm.

The employers' association has published an official announcement that all those participating in the strike would be summarily dismissed, adding that they would not longer put up with the "Marxist tyranny."

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES

Madrid, Sept. 8. Far reaching, precautionary measures have been devised by the Government in view of the Marxist threats to enforce the general strike. The Socialists, already declared, will make the common cause with the Communists. The employers' association has let it be known that all workers joining in the strike would be dismissed. The association declare they would not stand the Marxist tyranny any longer.

VIENNA ALARM ALLAYED

Accidental Shot From Rifle

Vienna, Sept. 9. The city was alarmed at what was at first believed to be an attempt on the life of Prince von Starhemberg when a shot hit his house.

The police were called out and searched the vicinity fruitlessly. Eventually an explanation was given by a Heimwehr man that he had accidentally discharged his rifle by carelessly knocking it against the wall. He was terrified of punishment and did not confess immediately.

Reuter.

An earlier cable stated that an attempt was made on the life of Prince von Starhemberg when shots were fired at his house, No. 2 Biberstrasse, from house No. 1 opposite. Police and Heimwehr men were searching both houses and it was believed that the perpetrators were Communists who have been recently very active in the city.

KING FUAD ILL

Unable To See Sir M. Lampson

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.

The High Commissioner, Sir Miles Lampson, sailed on his three months' leave without having the customary farewell audience of King Fuad owing to the latter's illness. A bulletin announces that his Majesty has been laid up for the past five days with influenza, but is now progressing.

The King, it may be recollected, was ill for three months at the beginning of the year with bronchial influenza. In spite of the reassuring tone of the bulletin his present illness should, therefore not be treated lightly.

Great importance is attached to the High Commissioner's visit to London. It is no secret that he will review with the Foreign Office the whole situation in Egypt, particularly in regard to certain questions requiring solution in the immediate future.

Foremost is the administrative position which, undoubtedly requires tightening up. In many respects the Cabinet has created a much healthier atmosphere. It comprises some quite able men. But, on the other hand, it has developed into an inharmonious team of colourless personality.

It is now clear that British official circles realise the inconvenience of a continuation of this state of things, and the autumn, or at the latest, the turn of the year,

NO MORE TRADE WITH GERMANY

Till Old Accounts Are Settled

London, Sept. 8.

At a largely attended meeting of yarn Merchants and Spinners at the Bradford Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"From the date of this meeting no further arrangements will be entered into to make yarn deliveries direct or indirect to Germany pending a settlement being arrived at for the liquidation of old debts."

The feeling expressed at the meeting was that although suppliers had confidence in the financial strength of the integrity of their individual customers, recent actions of the German Government in making arrangements on behalf of German importers to obtain sterling to meet their debts had been so unsatisfactory and was resulting in such serious dislocation to merchants and spinners in West Riding that traders involved felt themselves bound to insist upon arrangements for the settlement of the old debt question being treated as essential and taking precedence over all questions of new deliveries of yarns.

Although traders are quite sympathetic to the position in which Germany finds herself, it was resolved that it was not possible to continue to make delivery. It is stated that Germany owes West Riding about half million pounds (sterling) per wool tops and yarn.

CANCER GERM ARGUMENT

French Scientist's Bombshell

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Paris, Sept. 8.

The French scientist, Louis Revels, has dropped a bombshell in the world wide controversy now raging about Dr. von Brehmer's alleged discovery of cancer bacillus before Professor Brehmer.

The French scientist declares he sent the French Academy of Science three communications containing descriptions as to the bacillus discovered by him and details the treatment of cancer. His latest communication was dated July 9 but nothing has been purposely published so as to avoid the controversy. But the messages from Germany on Brehmer's discovery now induced him to make known the results of his researches and experiments on cancer bacillus which he has been conducting for the past eighteen years.

Public Debt Issue. Among other questions, the Egyptian Public Debt issue will figure prominently in the London discussions. Contrary to statements authorised by the Egyptian Cabinet, Britain has also not yet accepted the Egyptian proposals for reforms of the mixed tribunals. Discussions are still continuing with Whitehall, which awaits Sir Miles Lampson's arrival before making any decision on the subject.

Regarding the public debt question with which the Mixed Appeal Court will deal in the coming session, it has been arranged that if the lower court's decision against the Egyptian Government is confirmed, Egypt, with Britain's acquiescence, and even her support, would default in the matter of gold, while continuing to pay in paper.

TRAGIC FIRE ON THE MORRO CASTLE

Over Two Hundred Still Missing

Asbury Park, N.J. Sept. 8.

Fire has broken out on the American liner, Morro Castle, bound for New York from Savannah with 318 passengers and 240 crew. According to a wireless S.O.S., the vessel is blazing from stem to stern.

All coastguard vessels on the New Jersey coast are speeding to the rescue, while the British liner, Monarch of Bermuda, is nearing the scene, 20 miles south of the Scotland lightship.

Reuter.

New York, Sept. 8. The Monarch of Bermuda rescued 65 passengers, and the Andre Luckenbach 22. Asbury Park officials estimate the death toll to be between 200 and 250.

Six of the rescued crew say that the fire started in the library and not as the result of a lightning flash.

DOCTOR'S GRAPHIC STORY

Dr. Charles Cochran, who reached the shore at Spring Lake New Jersey in a lifeboat, related a graphic story of the disaster.

"I was asleep in my cabin at 3 o'clock in the morning when I was awakened by a pungent smell," he said. "Then came a violent banging on the door. I quickly rose and found the passage way outside my cabin a mass of flames, cutting off my escape."

"I then rushed to the porthole which, fortunately, was on the deck level, and crawled through it on to the deck and ran to the nearest lifeboat which was already crowded, and tumbled in. There did not appear to be a real panic on deck."

"The lifeboat was launched, after a seemingly interminable delay of 15 minutes, into the boiling sea."

LITTLE KNOWN LINK

Scots Kings And Tottenham

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.

An historic but little-known connection between Scotland and Tottenham is commemorated in the new coat of arms which has been designed for Tottenham Council by the College of Arms.

Tottenham is to become a municipal borough, the charter granted by the King being presented to the Charter-Major by the Lord Mayor of London on Sept. 27.

After the Norman Conquest, William I's niece Maud married Waltheof, Earl of Huntingdon, and settled in Tottenham. Their daughter Judith married King David I of Scotland for some two centuries after that Tottenham Manor remained a possession—and was sometimes the residence—of the Scottish kings.

Later the manor of Tottenham was divided into several parts, one portion going to the Balliol family and another to the Bruges.

The famous Robert the Bruce's rebellion against Edward I abruptly terminated Tottenham's Scottish connections. Now, however, the Bruce is to be commemorated in the new arms, which have been designed by Mr. Arthur W. S. Cochrane, Clarenceux King of Arms.

Heraldic Precision

The formal description of the new arms, termed "an heraldic representation of the early history of Tottenham," is:

"The couped salient (St. Andrew's Cross), the chief (upper part of the shield) and motto are from the arms of Bruce, ancient holders of the manor. Upon the chief have been placed two billets (tiles) charged (inset) with the estoiles (stars) from the arms of Somerset, founder of the Tottenham Free Grammar School."

A helmet in the centre is from the coat of Compton, Lords of the Manor in the 18th century.

"Supporters, from the arms of Balliol, and crest show—the red Lion of Scotland, and on the supporters, dependent from a mural (walled) crown are roundels charged with the coats of Brittany

"Dr. Cochran believed that any passenger in any cabin beyond the library had no chance to escape."

"As we pulled away we could see passengers with their heads projecting from portholes. We saw more on deck with their retreat entirely cut off, and yelled to them to jump, saying that we would rescue them, but they would not jump," one survivor declared. Two survivors, Mr. and Mrs. Cohen, of Hartford, swam ashore from the liner.

They collapsed from shock and fatigue as they crawled out of the water on to the beach at Seagirt, New Jersey, and were rushed to hospital in a critical condition.

Reuter.

STEWARDESS' SACRIFICE

New York, Sept. 8.

The City of Savannah has arrived in New York with 80 survivors, one of whom described how a stewardess of the Morro Castle lost her life through insisting on a little boy being picked up before her.

Captain Albert Francis, commander of the Monarch of Bermuda, said: "We approached within a hundred yards of the Morro Castle and saw lifeboats with men in them, also many men hanging over the side poop yelling for help. We decided that the lifeboats will take care of themselves and went to the help of those still aboard. Several would not come off, thinking they were temporarily safe as the poop was clear of fire. Among them was the commander. I steamed round for half an hour picking up survivors. Then with twelve ambulance cases among these I decided to make for New York."

UNITED STATES STRIKE

Washington, Sept. 8.

Feeling is tense, as the United States textile strikers are gaining ground. Several thousand more workers have walked out. There have been a few minor disturbances, but the situation is generally quiet.

Mr. Ibra C. Blackwood, Governor of South Carolina, as a preliminary step towards the proclamation of martial law, has ordered all persons engaged in unlawful obstruction to go home before midday.

OTHER TO JOIN

The strike leader, Mr. Gorman, has announced that the workers in the upholstery, drapery, carpet, rug, pile fabric and plush factories throughout the country have been ordered to strike on Monday in sympathy with the textile strike.

STRIKE LEADER'S MESSAGE

Washington, Sept. 8.

Mr. German, the strike leader, in a radio message, unexpectedly proposed that the Mediation Board in the textile strike become an Arbitration Board and start work to-morrow, all factories meanwhile to be closed and protected by pickets against damage.

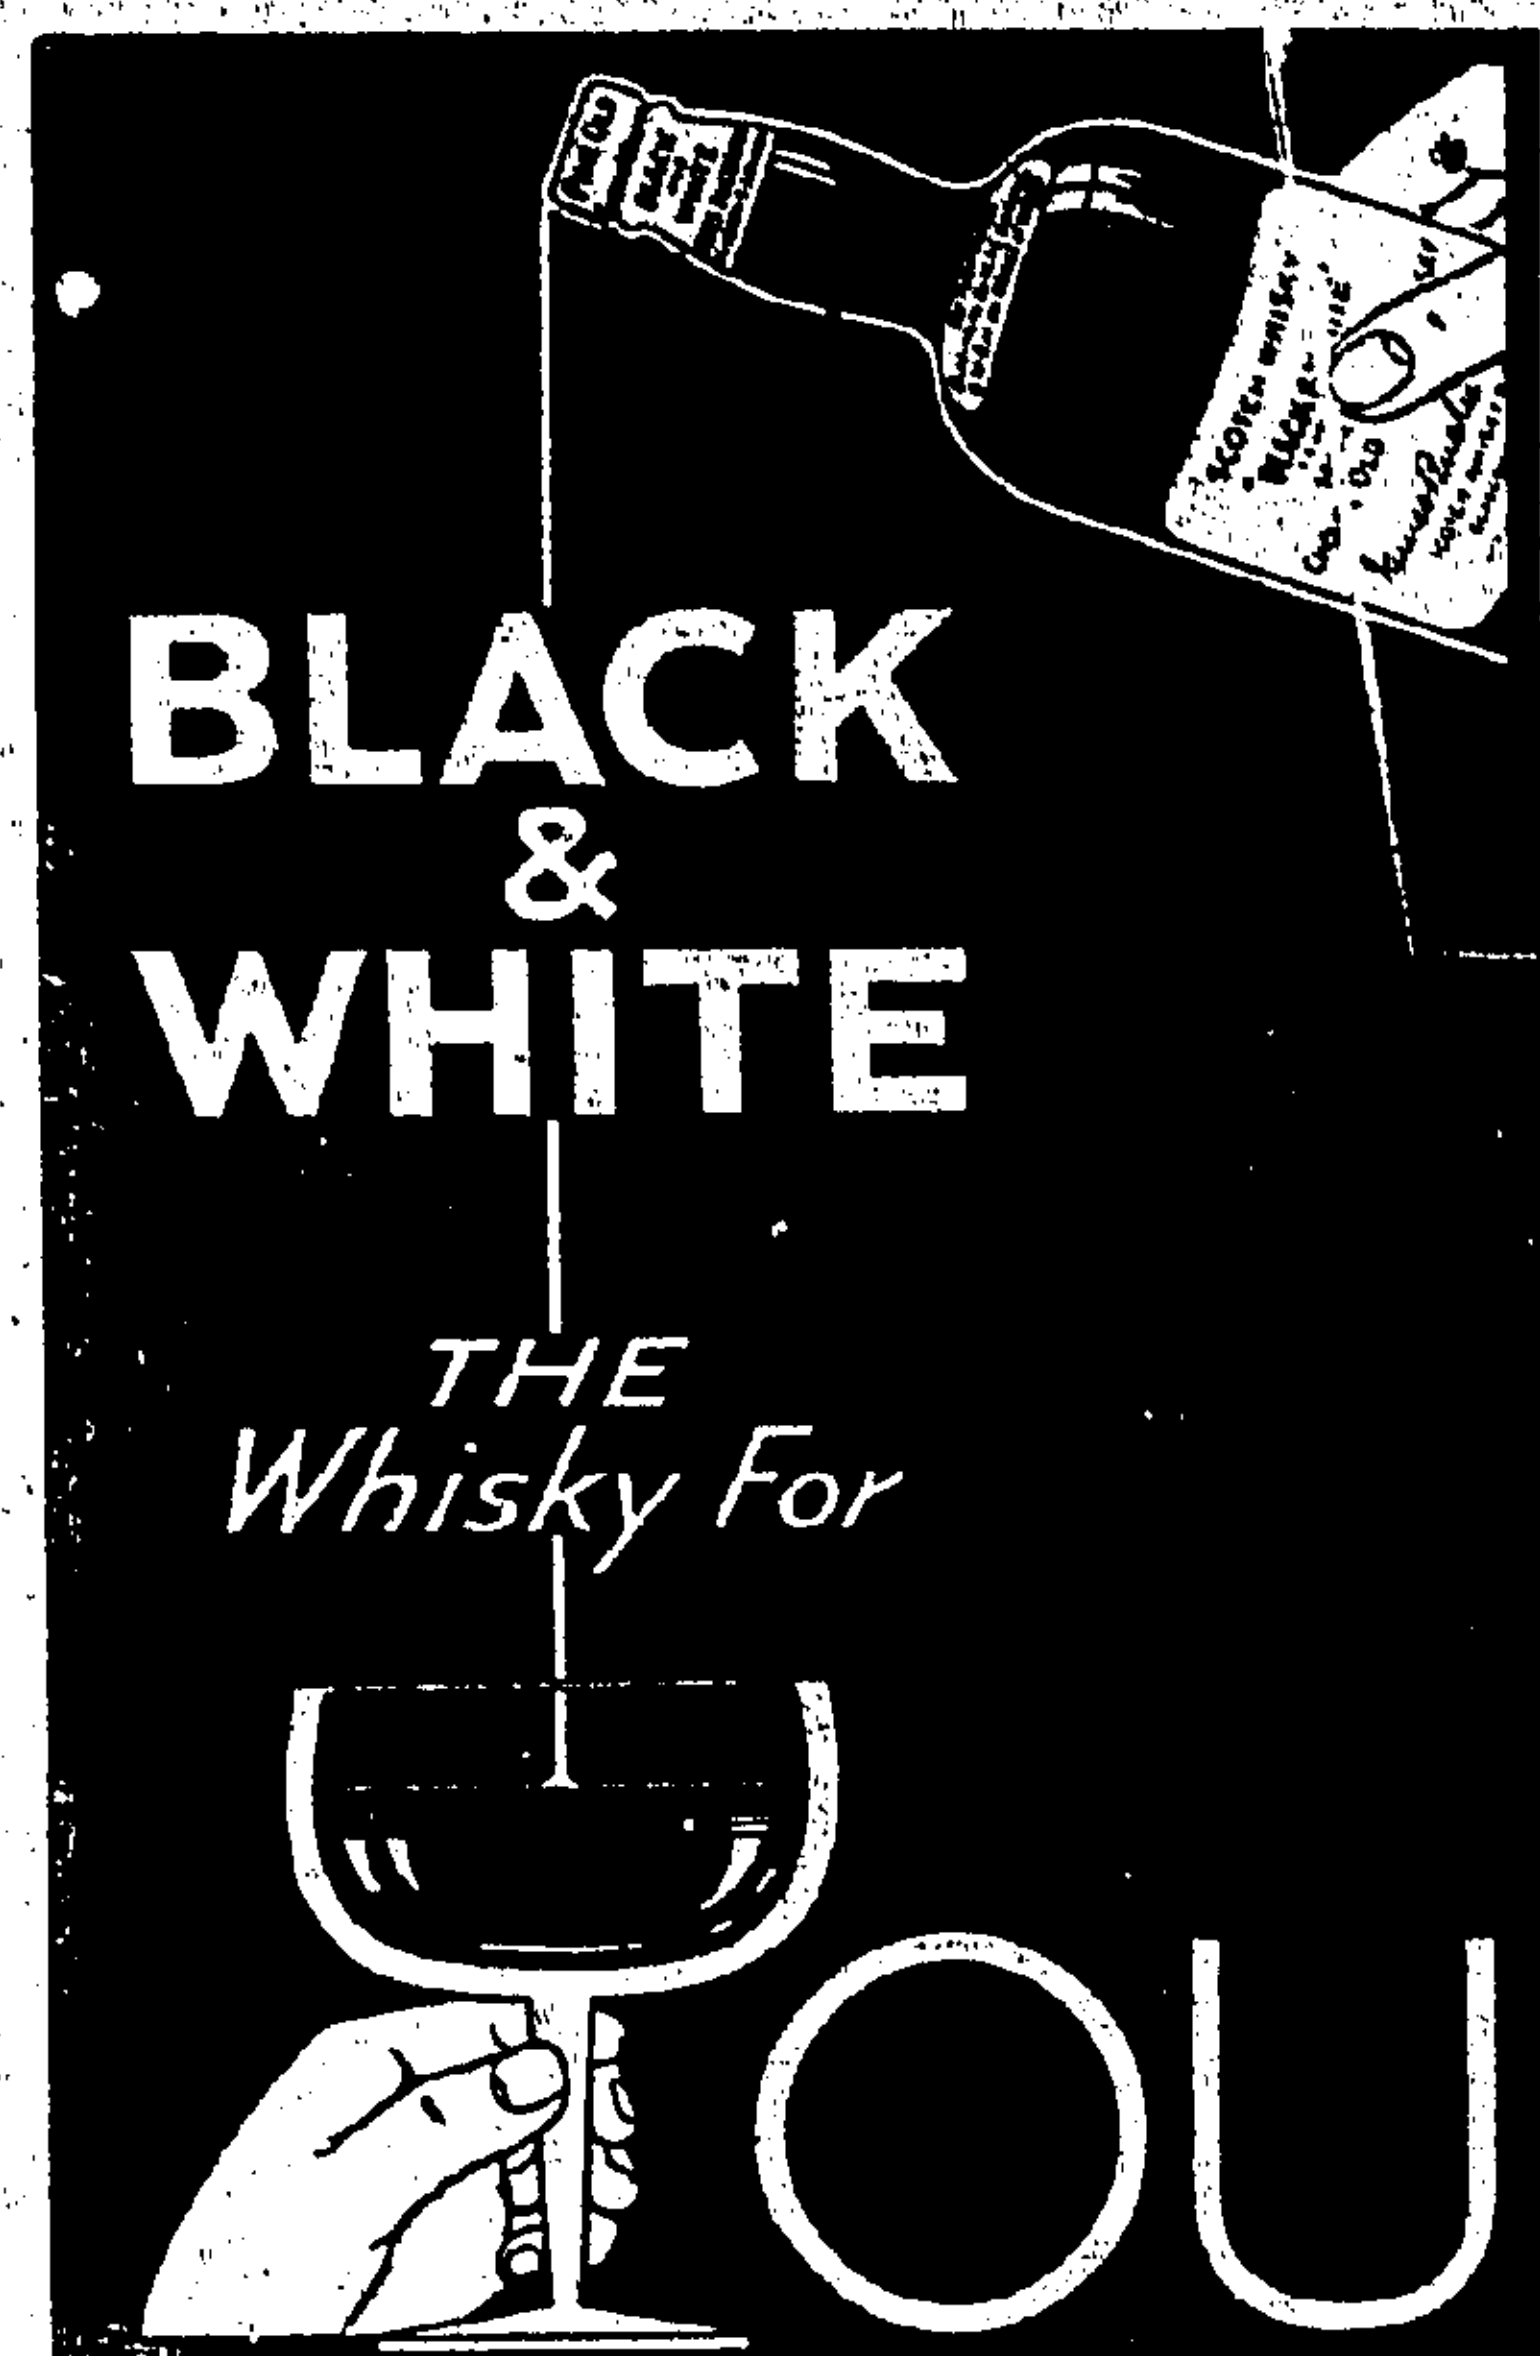

Mr. William Green, President of the American Federation of Labour, after conferring with the Mediation Board, said, "I am much impressed by the fairness and manifest desire of the Board to get into the heart of things and make concrete and practical suggestions."

Meanwhile the employers have planned a determined effort to open a number of factories on Monday.

The hosiery workers have called a strike for September 12, affecting 85,000 in a dozen States. It is predicted that a walk out will begin to-morrow.

GERMANY'S AIR BASE FOR CHINA

In The South Atlantic

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22. Germany's second floating air base will leave for service in the South Atlantic to-morrow.

The base, which will be named Schwabenland, is a sister "catapult ship" to the Westfalen, which is already stationed in the South Atlantic.

German flying boats carrying mail have regularly flown over the South Atlantic, landed on the Westfalen's trailing apron, been hauled aboard and catapulted for Port Natal, Brazil after refuelling.

Berlin and Rio are thus brought within five days of each other.

In future one of the catapult ships will be stationed off the West African coast, the other off that of South America.

The French have been attempting to establish a rival service with the three engined landplane "Arc-en-Ciel." This machine has covered the 2000 miles of ocean non-stop from Port Natal to Dakar, West Africa.

The growth of air lines has brought with it the need for an international air timetable, and the publication of an aerial "Bradshaw" is announced. A pioneer, however, has been in the field since last June—the Airway Timetable issued by Roadway Publications.

It contains full service details for every European country with

Orders Follow Hendon Air Display

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.

Lieutenant-General Huang Kwang-Jui, Commandant of the Canton Air Corps, has ordered several British planes for the training of young pilots.

The orders follow the General's recent visit to Britain, where he witnessed the Hendon air display. The General himself received most of his training in the United States, as did many of his officers, and they are accustomed to use American machines.

It is intended in future, however, to Europeanise the Air Force, and a start has been made with the British orders.

The people of Canton are being aroused to the danger of air raids by a publicity campaign, and a fund is to be raised for the purchase of anti-aircraft guns, sound detectors, searchlights, and orders for some of these will be given to British firms, says Exchange.

SMALL FIELDS BUT BIG DIVIDENDS

CHOW FAN AND FESTIVAL EVE PROVIDE UPSETS

African Eve Has Easy Win

Although the attendance at the race meeting held at Ma-cao yesterday was comparatively small, yet there was plenty of excitement in the programme of six races. Fields were on the small side, but thanks to a couple of upsets dividends were fairly tempting.

The biggest return of the day was provided by Capt. Jordan, who, riding Festival Eve, came home a short head in front of the favourite, Vago, ridden by Mr. Norman Deltz.

In the race for "Mafoos," Chow Fan won from Hey Tor, to pay a dividend of $46.20.

SARABANDE SCORES FIRST WIN

Everyone of the entries in the Machine Gun Troop race went to the post. The field was off to a fair start and Alec Potts steered Mouche quickly into the vanguard, followed by Pat (Browning up), African Eve with Bob Charles up and the others trailing behind.

After three furlongs Pat slipped back and African Eve was quickly sent up. He took the lead at the head of the straight and won by three lengths from Pat, who came along with a big rush at the finish. Mouche was third.

Botelho Wins
The second race found only three starters, viz. Gold Currency (P. P. Botelho), Great Hall (S. N. Pan) and Fair View (S. Y. Laing). They kept in that order all the way over the six furlongs, there being five lengths between first and second and a similar distance between second and third.

The race may be described as a personal triumph for Botelho, who, springing into a lead at the start, kept his mount going all the way.

Fair View just prior to the race was given a little "stretch" by Laing, but the pony was with difficulty pulled up. He found the going too fast for him during the race.

Mafoos' Race

The start of the mafoos' race left much to be desired. Black Velvet being left at the post, and Hey Tor about four lengths behind Bold Commander and Chow Fan who were early on the move. Black Velvet never had a look in but Hey Tor made a big effort and managed to lead into the straight. The early effort, however, took its toll when Chow Fan offered a challenge in the home straight. Hey Tor was beaten by three quarters of a length, while Bold Commander finished third, three lengths behind. Black Velvet managed fourth place. The winner paid $46.20 to successful punters.

Another Upset

Another upset was in store for punters, for in the fourth race Festival Eve (with Captain Jordan in the saddle) accounted for a field of six, to pay his supporters $51 each.

Vago (Mr. Deltz) set the pace, and with a gap of three lengths between him and the rest of the field at the head of the straight he seemed a sure winner. However, once into the straight Festival Eve showed a great burst of pace and in an exciting finish, won by a short head. Shaughran was third.

Sarabande Wins

After "knocking" for nine months, Sarabande at last won a race, beating Delightful Chance by two lengths.

Mr. Paul Botelho on Antamok tried the same tactics with this pony as with Gold Currency, but Antamok was found wanting in the home straight, and was beaten, first by Sarabande, who went on to win and by Delightful Chance who came up with a big burst of speed in the last furlong.

Ladies' Race

There were only four starters in the ladies' race and Fl-Fa (Miss G. Dowling) led from start to finish. City of Shanghai (Miss P. Scott-Harston) was left, as was Sea View (Miss Betty Fair), Miss Beryl Fair on Harbour View never had a chance to touch the others. Fl-Fa drew further and further ahead of Sea View as the race progressed and ultimately won by three lengths. City of Shanghai put in a great spurt to finish within a length of Sea View.

INTERPORT BOWLS

Hong Kong Lose Again

Shanghai, Sept. 8.
Winning the last two heads when the position seemed hopeless, Shanghai made a clean sweep of the Interport bowls with Hong Kong by their third victory today the score being 22-21.

There was a large attendance in bright and sunny weather when Hong Kong turned out the same team as in the previous games.

Hong Kong opened with a single. Shanghai replied with 3, obtained through a smash by Jensen, the Shanghai skip.

In the fifth head Shanghai led by 5 shots to 3, but Hong Kong rallied and a 3 shot saw them in the lead on the next head.

Leading 11-7 in the tenth head Hong Kong increased their advantage to 17-11 in the 15th head.

In the 18th head Jensen, the Shanghai skip, nearly caused a burnt head when Hong Kong were lying 2, but the visitors still laid two more through Omar, bringing the score to 21 shots to 14.

The 20th head was disastrous for the visitors as Shanghai scored a 5. When the skips went over the home team were lying 3, and Jensen added two more. Omar was wide with his first wood and short with the next, so that Shanghai had reduced the margin to 21 shots to 19.

On the final head Shanghai obtained the required 3 shots for victory. Omar was stopped from saving defeat by a good block by Jensen.

Omar returned to form in this match and played a good game. While Coates was brilliant, Beer and Bana were not up to form.

The Shanghai players were: A. Marshall, A. McLeod, W. A. Bailey and G. V. Jensen (skip).

Hankow's Third Win
Hankow defeated Shanghai by a margin of 23 shots, to 18 to record their third successive victory.

Hankow won the first game by 21 shots to 18 and the second 19 shots to 18.

WOODEN SPOONISTS WIN JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Indian Recreation Club's Brilliant Record

Recording their fourteenth win in 16 games the Indian Recreation Club, wooden spoonists last year in the Junior Division of the Local Lawn Bowls League, on Saturday captured the Junior title as a result of a splendid win over the Kowloon Cricket Club at home by 62 shots to 56.

Owing to the claims of the Interport upon bowlers, only a skeleton programme was carried out. The bowling on the whole was good with the exception of the Craignower "B" team's performance. The latter who last week lost heavily to the Bowling Green Club were surprisingly defeated by the Club de Recreio Juniors by a margin of 27 shots, while the Bowling Green Juniors trounced the Civils.

A "T" was recorded in a friendly game between the Hong Kong Football Club and a Team from the Craignower Cricket Club, while a "6" was recorded by W. E. Hale's Bowling Green Rink against J. C. Brown's Kowloon Dock Rink.

with a margin of 5 shots over J. J. Basto's rink.

Rinks skipped by J. B. Ross of the Yacht Club and J. Ribeiro of the Recreio, drew with 23 shots each, while A. Macfarlane's rink had the better of Dr. J. Basto's four by 1 shot.

Friendly Games
The Craignower Cricket Club had the better of the Civil Service in a friendly fixture at Happy Valley yesterday, the former scoring 67 shots to the latter's 53.

The Footballers secured a notable triumph on their own greens when they defeated a Craignower combination by 85 shots, A. Brooksbank's four scoring 31 to V. Atienza's 10.

At Happy Valley the Police Seniors proved too good for the Police Juniors and scored an overwhelming victory of 93 shots to 36. A. R. Clarke's four scoring 39 against 6 shots by W. Glendinning's four.

Following their recent defeat at the hands of the Bowling Green Club, the Craignower "B" were again defeated when they went under to the Club de Recreio who won by a margin of 27 shots. F. X. Silva's rink was the only Recreio quartet which failed, J. Cavanagh's rink scoring 21 against the former's 20.

Playing on their own green the Kowloon Cricket Club defeated the Kowloon Docks Recreation Club by the narrow margin of 2 shots.

Behind on two of the rinks, R. P. Phillips' rink paved the way for a win with a score of 27 to 15 over J. McKelvie's rink.

Junior Division
Defeating the Kowloon Cricket Club by 6 shots, the Indian Recreation Club secured the Junior Championship in spite of having been the wooden spoonists last year.

H. Overly was the only successful K.C.C. skip, securing a win by 23 shots to 14 over A. M. Wahab's rink.

The Kowloon Bowling Green Club secured a very comfortable win over the Civil Service whom they beat by 45 shots, winning on all three of the rinks.

J. Rodger's rink held the best average, scoring 29 shots against 8 by R. R. Davies' four.

Playing at North Point, the Yachtsmen had the better of the Club de Recreio by 7 shots in their Junior encounter, A. Chapman's rink paving the way for victory.

AQUATIC STARS LEAVE

Colony's Bright Chances

The Colony's Interport swimming team comprising Messrs. C. E. Roza-Pereira (Captain), Lionel Roza-Pereira, W. Lawrence, E. B. da Roza, T. Paget, Ed da Roza, A. da Roza, W. T. Campbell, E. Fullager, Kwok Chun-hang, Lau Po-hay, S. E. Wong and Shek Sut-pui left Hong Kong for Shanghai on Saturday by the President Coolidge, full of confidence and looking forward with eagerness to their contest with Shanghai and Tientsin in the Triangular Swimming Interport.

A large gathering of supporters and swimming enthusiasts gathered on the Kowloon Wharf and cheered the vessel out from her berth, while in reply the Interport team spelt each letter of "Hong Kong" and ended up with a final "hurrah."

Interviewed on board, Mr. C. E. Roza Pereira, the captain, expressed the fullest confidence in his team and said that the chances of bringing back the Taggart Cup were very bright. The team was a well balanced one and comprised the best swimming talent in the Colony.

Several Club-mates and friends are accompanying the swimmers as local supporters, their number including Mr. J. M. M. Alves, Joint-Secretary of the V. R. C., Mr. H. Hyndman, Hon. Treasurer, Mr. F. P. Lanjesty, Mr. F. K. D'Almada Jr., and others. Mr. D. F. Lopes, the manager of the team, left for Shanghai earlier in the week.

Despite the temporary indisposition of two of the swimmers, W. Lawrence and Kwok Chun-hang, the entire 14 were in the pink of condition when the ship sailed on Saturday.

OWEN HUGHES TO LEAD HONG KONG AGAIN?

ANOTHER FINE BATTING DISPLAY IN TRIAL

Bowker Impresses: Pereira's Fireworks

The second interport trial was played on the Club ground last Saturday and, if anything, served to confirm some of the impressions gained in the previous game although this time, two of the newcomers, C. C. Garthwaite and A. C. I. Bowker, acquitted themselves very creditably with the bat and ball respectively.

Pearce's XI had first use of the wicket and they were soon in difficulties, losing 3 wickets for 28 runs. Then Garthwaite and Owen Hughes got together and batting solidly, they put a stop to the rot and it was not until the score had reached 78 that they were separated—Garthwaite retiring for 19 runs. I think Garthwaite is a certainly for the interport for he is not only an excellent batsman but is also a very useful bowler with the new ball.

Owen Hughes again showed good form and it may be taken for granted that he will again lead the Hong Kong team. So far as the bowlers were concerned Pereira and Minu both bowled well but Lady Luck did not smile on them. The former, together with Bowker, would make an excellent "shock combination" but as for Minu he is not so certain of a place since Elvin, the other left-hand bowler, is showing excellent form at present.

ANOTHER BAD START

After Pearce's side had been dismissed for 113 runs, Hayward sent Mackay and Harley out to open the innings for his side. Garthwaite and Ricketts opened the bowling and soon the score board showed that 5 wickets had fallen for 38 runs. Bowker was given a spell with the ball and sent down seven very useful overs, four of which were maidens and conceding only six runs. Elvin from the Law Courts' end, bowled impressively, and his analysis would have been better than 4 for 19 but for the fact that Frank Pereira indulged in some fireworks and spilt it for him. The Indian fast bowler made 34 runs (not out) out of 57 in 33 minutes in the course of which he hit Alec Pearce into Chapter Road for a six while he also had a five (on an over-throw) and three fours.

THE CYCLING CLUB

Winter Programmes Discussed

At a recent general committee meeting of the Hong Kong Cycling Club—a considerable advance in the progress of both cycling in general and the Club in particular was reported. As a result the Committee had a very busy evening discussing and arranging such items as the commencement of the Winter Programme, time trials and records, additions and amendments to rules and internal re-organisation.

Two changes in the personnel of the General Committee were made; Mr. E. G. Tweedy took over the duties of Honorary Treasurer from Mr. J. W. R. Coles, and Mr. L. A. Anning assumed the role of Honorary Secretary vice Mr. H. G. Crayford. Mr. E. Munns, as vice-captain, was also brought on to the Committee. Mr. H. A. G. Keates was given the newly created appointment of Honorary Press Secretary.

Mr. Keates reported that the Club showed distinct signs of being a great success within the course of the next few months; much hard groundwork had made it possible for the Club to go ahead rapidly at the right moment which fully justified the commencement of the Club at what would appear to be the wrong time of the year.

The Hon. Treasurer reported the Club to be in a sound position and up to date no financial difficulties had presented themselves.

The Captain, Mr. C. Read, reported the runs to be well-attended, and showing every sign of increasing popularity. Not only was there an increase in numbers on these runs, but those participating were attaining a very high standard of orderliness on the runs, and setting a fine example to other cyclists. Individually and collectively, in the Colony. Mr. E. Munns, vice-captain, concurred in the foregoing remarks, and added that every provision was made for the comfort of those taking part; effective repairing arrangements were made by the Club, and as a precaution against accident, first aid outfits are carried.

Winter Programme

The opening run of the Winter Programme will be carried out on October 21st. Participants will meet at the Vehicular Ferry, Jordan Road, at 9.15 a.m. and proceed to Castle Peak Cafeteria where photographs will be taken. Refreshments will be arranged for at a cost of 50 cents for members and $1.00 for non-members.

It was decided to increase to 4½ hours the time allowed for the 50 miles time trial on November 4th over the Kowloon Circuit. A start will be made from Sham Shui Po at 1 p.m. on this occasion, and refreshments will be provided by the Club at 35 miles. Entrance fees have been reduced to members $1.00, and non-members $1.50. Specially designed and printed certificates will be presented within 3 weeks from the date of the event.

The Committee also discussed and investigate the time trials recently carried out with a view to passing them as "Hong Kong Cycling Club Records." Several doubtful points were thoroughly investigated and cleared up.

AMERICAN TENNIS

No Play On Saturday

Forest Hills, Sept. 8. Owing to a night-long deluge, play in the American national singles tennis title was postponed until tomorrow (Sunday). The final will be played on Wednesday. The following were yesterday's results:—

R. Menzel (Czechoslovakia) beat G. Manson (U.S.) 6-5, 4-6, 3-6, 6-6.

Fourth Round
F. J. Perry (Britain) beat E. W. Felsbman (U.S.) 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.
L. R. Stoecken (U.S.) beat J. van Ryn (U.S.) 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.
E. Wood (U.S.) beat M. Hainville

FIRST CLASS HOTEL

And A First Class Show!

There were fully three hundred people at the Hong Kong Hotel Garden for the tea dance yesterday and yet it did not seem at all crowded, so well did the management look after the comfort of its patrons. These tea dances are always an attraction and well they might be too, for what better conditions can one wish for so far as service, comfort and most important of all, a really good dance orchestra is concerned.

Always to the fore where variety is concerned, the management of the Hong Kong Hotel had "something special" for its patrons yesterday—an exhibition—by Miss Evelyn Cheng, the beautiful Dance Queen of China, and her partner, Mr. Theodore Cheng. They appeared in three numbers and perhaps the only remark one has to make is that the numbers were all too short! Miss Cheng appeared in a beautiful Chinese gown for first number—a fox-trot. Then the lights were dimmed and for the next dance we saw Miss Cheng in a delightful pink gown, with a flared skirt, and the way she and her partner walked round the floor held everybody spellbound. The last dance was a quick-step at the conclusion of which the couple were given a great ovation. We congratulate Miss Cheng and her partner on their excellent exhibition but we must not forget the management of the Hong Kong Hotel too, for the very efficient way in which they conducted the affair.

SOUTH CHINA'S SOCCER LOSS

Tay Quee-Liang Leaving For Straits

South China will be losing one of their most versatile footballers when Tay Quee-liang, the Straits born forward leaves the Colony next month for the Straits Settlements for an indefinite period.

Tay who came from Singapore with an inter-State record backing up his soccer prowess, fully lived up to his reputation and within a month of his arrival in Hong Kong was playing in representative games for South China. He was selected for the 1933-34 Interport soccer in Shanghai and was also a member of South China's soccer team to the Nanking Games last October.

His crowning achievement was to secure a place in China's team for the tenth Far Eastern Olympic Games at Manila this year. A forward of no mean value, Tay was one of the deadliest shots seen in local soccer for some time and was one of the most unselfish players ever seen in South China's teams.

He will probably play his first and last game this season for South China against the South Wales Borderers at Sookunpo on September 30, following which he depart for Singapore.

SOVIET FIRE, ON MOTOR-BOAT

Manchukuo Allegation

Harbin, Sept. 8. The Manchukuo Frontier Rivers Navigation Pact, signed on September 2, has received an unexpected baptism.

An official Japanese announcement states that on Thursday, Soviet troops directed rifle and machine-gun fire at a so-called Manchukuo motor-boat, near Tabeiho. In consequence, the boat was forced to return there.

The so-called Manchukuo is protesting.

NEWS FROM CHINA

PROMOTION OF EDUCATION

Forms Subject Of Discussion

Nanking, Sept. 1.

A number of Central Government officials—including Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, Minister of Education, Messrs. Tang Yu-jen, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, Liu Wei-chih, Vice Minister of Industry, and Tseng Chung-ming, Vice-Minister of Railways—returned here yesterday from Kuling, where they had conferred with General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Military Affairs Commission.

Interviewed, Mr. Tang Yu-jen said that General Chiang has completely recovered from his recent stomach trouble, and is again in high spirits.

Having conferred with Dr. W. W. Yen, Ambassador to Moscow, and Dr. Wellington Koo, Minister to Paris, Mr. Tang continued, General Huang Fu, Chairman of the Peiping Political Affairs Readjustment Committee, has decided to return to Peiping via Nanking on Monday, 3rd inst., to resume his duties.

Strict Examinations

Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, in an interview, said that in the course of his conversations with General Chiang Kai-shek, measures for the promotion of education were discussed. It was decided that more attention should be paid to the employment of the proceeds of the Boxer Indemnity Refunds for cultural purposes, that strict examinations should be held to determine the competence of employees of the various Provincial Departments of Education, and that education should concentrate on the promotion of the national productivity.

SOOCHOW CREEK MIRACLES

Loch Ness Hunt On A Small Scale

Not Loch Ness monsters but closely related to these fabled creatures are the miracles fished daily from the murky, oozy depths of Soochow Creek, which at its cleanest is a dark, brown flow and at its worst a stream of Stygian blackness.

Just like the jewel in the head of the toad so has the unromantic and uninspiring waterway something unusual to offer. Fishermen are making fine catches of delicious eels which come up from the Whangpoo and swim around the barges and junks tied up along the creek.

The discovery, says the "N. C. Daily News" was made one day last week by an astute Chinese who produced a big net and a bamboo and, in the presence of incredulous onlookers, who took one look at the water smiled scornfully cast it into the creek. Within a minute he pulled it out with a eel wriggling merrily at the bottom, and to impress the crowd he flung it briskly over his shoulder so that the eel went squirming over the road where it was picked up by his assistant in an enamel basin and transferred to a basket. He caught thirty or forty eels within a very short time.

The next day he had a competitor who was equally successful. By the fourth day of the eel catching season there were half a dozen nets in use around the boats and business was brisk, but the original fisherman still held his dominating position, smartly catching them in his net, hooking them over his shoulder into the roadway and giving the spectators a thrill for it is one thing to shovel up a net out of a net with an enamel basin, and another to pick it up from the roadway with the fingers, which a postman, policeman and two coolies discovered when they offered obligingly to assist the fisherman in picking up one worthy of a permanent home in Loch Ness.

The season is practically over now for these eels, which the Chinese call "gouli" and are known for their extremely tasty qualities.

OPPOSITION TO CONGRESS

Another Telegram

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 7.

The latest circular telegram opposing the Fifth National Congress of the Kuomintang is from the Revolutionary Officers' National Salvation Association, whose message is published to-day by the three government-owned newspapers here. The printed text does not state where the Association is located or who are the members.

An unusual feature of this telegram is that its viewpoint is on all fours with the manifestos and press interviews of the leaders here. The message is addressed to the Kuomintang veterans in Canton, Hong Kong, Nanking, and certain northern generals, who are not sympathetic with the views of the National Government.

Charging that the Nanking Government is controlled by military men, the circular telegram said that it is no use to convene a Fifth Congress, when the resolutions of the previous Congresses are not put into effect at all. Nothing is done by the Nanking Government to recover the lost provinces in spite of the requirement of earlier Congresses, it said.

In a "hand-out" given to the Press, Mr. Hsiao Fu Chen, leading member of the South-west regime, stated that plans would be duly formed to cope with the political situation and added that Kuomintang leaders in Shanghai will take concerted action with the southern party heads vis-a-vis the Fifth Congress. He intimated that the Shanghai members would soon come to Canton to talk over important Party affairs.

Draft resolutions to the Fifth Congress were brought to Hong Kong by Mr. Huang Kwei Lu, a member of the South-west Kuomintang, for the personal and examination by Mr. Hu Han Min. These terms are understood to be sweeping and demand the continuation of the South-west independent regime.

A BUMPER CROP EXPECTED

Shao, Sept. 1.

Mr. Li Kuo-chien, Assistant Director of the Shensi Provincial Cotton Improvement Station, returned here yesterday after an inspection of the co-operative societies in the cotton belt along Hoyaing, in northern Shensi.

He said that the acreage of cotton fields in Hoyaing is increasing and a bumper crop is anticipated. In order to promote the industry, the Station has decided to establish a cotton-packing factory there and to advance loans to the farmers. Methods for seed selection have also been explained by the Station to the people.

OPERATIONS AGAINST THE REDS

Canton, Sept. 7. Mr. Chang Pei-chien, personal representative of General Ho Chiang, Chairman of the Hunan Provincial Government and concurrently Commander-in-Chief of the Western Route Bandit-suppression Forces, arrived here from Changsha yesterday.

He called on General Chen Chi-tang, Commander-in-Chief of the Southern Route Forces, to report on the progress of the operations against the "Reds" along the Hunan-Hopei-Kiangsi border.

SECRET EXPORT OF FOOD

To Be Strictly Prohibited

(Kuo Min News Agency)

Chinkiang, Sept. 1. Provisional measures governing strict prohibition of secret export of foodstuffs from the province and restriction of the sale of rice to other provinces in a time of emergency, were decided upon at a meeting of the Kiangsu Provincial Government Committee held yesterday.

Measures for the purchase of foodstuffs in order to regulate the food supply and labour relief for mitigation of the plight of the victims of drought, were also approved.

A set of principles and the proposed table for the amortisation of principal and interest of the newly authorised $20 million "Kiangsu Provincial Water Conservancy Reconstruction Loan", and the regulations governing the organisation of the Loan Service Committee, were adopted.

OBSERVATORY TO BE ESTABLISHED

Canton, Sept. 9.

As it is most important to make observations connected with climatic conditions, rain and typhoons, for the protection of lives and property of the cities bordering sea, and the city of Canton being so situated, the Government of Canton has decided to build an observatory at Shik Pak.

The construction work of this building has been placed in the hands of the Public Works Department, and the estimated cost is $24,981.00. It is reported that work commenced in December of last year, and that the whole building will be completed sometime next month.

NUREMBERG CONGRESS

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Nuremberg, Sept. 7. Dr. Ley announced that according to the National Socialist party's records, the number present at the congress was no less than 187,000.

To the rousing strains of Badenweiler march played by a powerful military band, Hitler entered the vast hall. The standard bearers halted and lowered their flags in memory of those who fell during the war. Then the song "Once I had a comrade" was sung by the whole gathering.

In the opening meeting, Dr. Ley said that 200,000 political leaders were waiting in the present assembly and 600,000 more throughout the country were waiting for the Fuehrer's instructions about their task for the coming year.

Hitler then began his address, declaring that the National-Socialist movement not only lives but is founded as firm as a rock and would go on as long as even one man is left to carry on the work.

Even if it means hardship and care, Germany's future must come first. Let this be our vow in this hour on this day that we shall think only of Germany, its people, its Reich and our German nation.

MAKING LONDON MODERN

Completion Of A Great Scheme Planned In 1898

London, Sept. 7. One of the greatest operations in office building in England will be completed with the erection in Strand, and Aldwych of the final section of Bush House, one of the most conspicuous features of modern London.

The Office of Works has proposed the use of the new building for housing the staff of one of the Government Departments. The erection will also mark the completion of the great scheme planned in 1898 for sweeping away the narrow streets and old property which formerly occupied this centre.

The dignified new thoroughfares, Kingsway and Aldwych, which replaced these, were opened by King Edward in 1905, but the war and the depression prevented subsequent development.

NEW YORK STOCK AND COMMODITY QUOTATIONS

AMERICAN ORIENTAL FINANCE CORPORATION AND S. E. LEVY & CO.

New York, Sept. 8. The American Oriental Finance Corporation's report through their New York agents, Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co., states:—

Stocks—We think the market is now in a position to respond either way to any important news.

Wheat—There was fair support on the dip, following the bearish cotton report, which did not extend far. The cash situation is the dominant influence, with the premium remaining firm, in all domestic markets. The cotton estimate is moderately bearish, due to the high basis and light offerings of "Spot" cotton in the South. A good demand is expected on weakness, especially should the strike turn favourably.

Rubber—The market was extremely dull and featureless with the London market closed.

Flash—The following report was issued by the Government Bureau of Estimates at noon to-day:—

Condition as of 1/9: 5.8 per cent. of normal.

Crop Indication: 9,252,000 bales. Acreage abandoned since July 1: 2.8 per cent.

NEW YORK MID-DAY PRICES

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Report

Hong Kong, Sept. 8. Mr. G. A. Harriman's weekly share report and market review issued at noon states:—

The market during the past week has been very dull and lifeless with prices inclined to ease off, the volume of trading being a very light one. Investment counters ruled easier with Hong Kong Lands down to 50 and Hongkong Tramways to $20.10. Hongkong Electric was a shade easier and were transacted at $72.50/75. Telephones (old) eased off slightly with shares on offer at $24 after business at $24/24. Star Ferries were obtainable at $99. Wharves were more or less neglected, sellers prevailing at $111. Dairy Farms receded to a selling rate of $25. Minor issues suffered a set-back, prices in most instances sagging. Providents (old) again touched new low levels at $1.50 and Cements at $2.40. Hotels were on offer at $5.50 and Realty at $4.70. China Lights (old) changed hands at $8.85 for Settlement closing in demand at $8.55, the new shares having been put through at $8.40. Sterling counters showed very little change with business done in Hong Kong Banks at $1725/35 and Unions at $335/40. The tone of the market at the close is easy, but the minor issues are inclined to show a steady tendency.

Business was done during the week at the following prices:—

Hongkong Banks $1,725-35/-

Union Insurance $535-40/-

Hongkong Lands $50/-

Humphreys $19/-

China Lights (new) $3.40

Hongkong Trams $20.10

Yamati Ferries $21.25

Cements $2.40

Telephones (old) $24-24 1/2

Hongkong Electric $72 1/2/73

Providents (old) $11

Constructions (new) $8.80

Baguio Gold 48 cents

Gold Rivers 24 cents

Baguio Explorations 17 1/2 cents

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, Sept. 7. General buoyancy characterised the Sharemarket on Friday, chiefly because the signature of the agreements with other countries regulating payments in international trade opens up new prospects for general economic situation. Moreover, the official statistics on the sales of Ruhr coal for August are considered satisfactory. Fixed interest securities continued mostly unchanged, city loans being, however, firmer all round.

Call Money 4 to 4 1/2, Young Loan advanced 1/2 to 9 1/2, Reichsbank declined 1/2 to 15 1/2, Dreyfus unchanged at 14 1/2, Salzdetfurth Pol. ash slumped 2 1/2 to 161, German Steel Trusts weakened 1/2 to 40 1/2, German Mineral Oils rose 1 to 11 1/2, Siemenshalske 1/2 firmer to 14 1/2, Bernberg Rayon 1 higher to 14 1/2.

KING OF THE WILD HORSES

Excellent Film At
The Alhambra

"King of the Wild Horses," Columbia's brilliant and spectacular picture dealing with the Navajo Indians, is unique among motion pictures for the fact that not one single scene was photographed inside the studio and not one process or trick shot was used in the entire film.

Even such admittedly fine and successful outdoor films as "The Covered Wagon," "The Iron Horse," "Old Ironsides," and more recently "The Doomed Battalion," moved inside the man constructed walls of movie studios for some of the interior scenes. Never before has any picture of such proportions and beauty as "King of the Wild Horses" been photographed entirely on location.

The star of this unusual Columbia feature is Rex, the famous wild stallion, heading a band of two thousand wild horses corralled on the Arizona mesas, with William Janney, Dorothy Appleby, Wallace MacDonald, Ford West and Harry Semels in the supporting cast. In addition to thousands of Navajo and Hopi Indians, Earl Haley directed the picture, taken from his own story, adapted by Fred Myton.

In order to film a picture with such thrilling colour and action as takes place in "King of the Wild Horses" on the barren mesas of Arizona where the Navajo and Hopi Indians have made their homes since the days of the early cliff-dwellers, thousands of dollars had to be spent merely providing transportation for the company of 75 sent from Hollywood for five weeks.

Roads across the desert had to be constructed two weeks before the company arrived by Indian labourers and cowhands. Fifteen trucks, including the delicately and expensively equipped sound truck, were needed to transport props, tents, food, water, make-up kits, wardrobe, microphone equipment, cables, cameras and the thousand and one other mechanical appliances necessary to any movie company.

The several sets for interior scenes inside a cabin that the script called for, were erected by the "grips" in the Columbia troupe with the aid of labourers, and lighted by the powerful rays of the Arizona sun that beat down upon the ground at 120 degrees of heat most of the five weeks the picture was filmed.

Indian hoghans, tents and cots right out under the stars for people like William Janney and Wallace MacDonald who preferred to get really back to nature, served as living quarters for the company. Every night they were lulled to sleep by the sonorous chanting of Indian voices from the encampment of two thousand Navajos who travelled with the troupe.

"GLAMOUR"

Coming To The King's

One little-known theory as to the best means by which a woman may acquire a glamorous personality is expounded in "Glamour," Universal's drama based on "the eternal triangle" which opens at the King's theatre on Tuesday.

Constance Cummings and Paul Lukas play featured roles in this screen play, while Phillip Reed is seen at the other point of the love triangle, which develops, completely changing the lives of all the people concerned.

As the story opens Miss Cummings, a chorus girl, worms herself into the affections of Lukas, composer of uniformly successful musical plays, who eventually devotes all his talents to the advancement of the girl, bringing about her elevation to stardom in his plays. Finally the two are married, and the young wife becomes the reigning success of the New York stage, happily wed to the man of her heart. At length, however, Reed is engaged as her leading man, and soon afterward the two fall in love with each other with the broken hearted husband pre-empting indifference in order to preserve his wife's happiness. Reed and Miss Cummings go to London together and are married, and it is now the wife who subordinates

CHINESE "Y"

To Hold Swimming
Gala

The Chinese Y.M.C.A. are now making tentative arrangements for an ambitious aquatic meeting to be held jointly at the Association's pool at Bridges Street and at their North Point Bathing Shed, simultaneously on September 29.

This will probably be in the nature of a trial for aspirants to the Provincial Meeting which is being held at Canton in the near future.

The meeting will be divided into three classes for men, boys and children. An equal number of events will also be devoted to lady members.

Mr. Richard Shim has kindly consented to distribute the prizes.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Firing Practices To Be Carried Out

The Harbour Master has issued a notice to mariners, stating that the local Military Authorities advise that gunnery practices will be carried out from Hong Kong Forts as follows:—

Devil's Peak will fire on September 11, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., in the direction of Tathong Channel;
Stonecutters will fire on September 18, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., in the direction of Green Island;
Mount Davis Fort will fire on September 18, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., in the direction of West Lamma Channel;
Devil's Peak will fire on September 27, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., in the direction of Tathong Channel;
Lyemun will fire on October 2, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., in the direction of Fo Tau Mun Pass.

All craft are thereby warned not to sail near the above mentioned vicinities, during the gunnery practices.

herself to further the success of her mate.

Phillip Reed gives several songs while the picture affords a glimpse of the backstage life of its principal characters. The picture was directed by William Wyler, and other important roles in support of Miss Cummings and Lukas are played by Doris Lloyd, Joseph Cawthorn and other well known screen artists.

GERMAN COAL FOR IRELAND

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright)]

As an outcome of the Irish import duty of five shillings per ton on English coal, contracts have been signed between Welsh coal dealers and German mine owners for the supply of considerable amounts of Ruhr coal to Ireland during the coming winter. The German coal, it is pointed out, can be delivered to Ireland at 1s. 6d. cheaper than the English.

EDINBURGH AND NEW AIR MAIL PLANS

Protest By Chamber Of Commerce

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 22.

The omission of Edinburgh from the list of centres to be served by the new air mails which have been announced by the Postmaster-General is the subject of a protest by the Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce.

They have made representations to the Postmaster-General pointing out the disadvantage at which Edinburgh business men have been placed by the exclusion of the Scottish capital; and have stated that they had again and again urged the town council to provide a landing field for aeroplanes, but though they understood that the town council owned a suitable site, no steps had been taken to provide the necessary facilities, and the progress of the city was being delayed.

The Postmaster-General, in his reply to the Chamber, states that the service is of an experimental nature, and until some experience had been gained in the use of air transport for internal mails, and until the response of the public to the new facilities had been ascertained, it was intended to restrict the service to the places mentioned in the recent announcement. He was aware that the new service did not include a number of important centres, such as Edinburgh, but in view of the consideration mentioned, and the absence of regular flying services to such centres, he regretted that they could not be brought within the scope of the experimental arrangements.
